CHEERS—THE SUN'S BACK

Bay Area Jet Is Shunted To Cuba

63 On National Flight 44

MIAMI (AP)—A National Airlines DC8 with 63 persons aboard — including a stewardess who felt a hijacker's gun against her neck last March—was diverted to Cuba today by a pistol packing sky pirate.

Flight 44 from San Francisco to Miami with a stop scheduled at Tampa, was off the Louisiana coast when Capt. Charles Leeds radioed the news.

The plane, 11th of the year to be sent to Cuba, landed in Havana at 3:58 a.m. PST.

TWICE A VICTIM

Aboard were 55 passengers and a crew of eight, including stewardess Donna Goldinher, who was grabbed by a hijacker last March 12 and forced to march to the cockpit with a gun at her neck. Three Cuban refugees later were charged with the hijacking, one of 20 during 1968.

When Leeds reported the hijacking today he said the plane was being hijacked by a "man with a gun at the head of the stewardess." It was not known whether the stewardess again was Miss Goldinher, a pretty, 26-year-old brunette.

"I am diverting to Havana, I have been hijacked," said Leeds. At the time his plane was about 67 miles southwest of Grand Isle, La.

JET RETURNS

Leaving the passengers in Havana—the normal procedure in hijackings to Cuba—the crew flew the DC8 back to Miami, landing at 8:30 a.m. PST.

Other members of the crew were First Officer Wallace Pawley, Flight Engineer Clyde Roper and stewardesses Thelma Tarleton, Leanna J. Anderson, Pamela Klinger and Miss Goldinher.

Also aboard was William D. Stevens, an air traffic control specialist for the Federal Aviation Administration stationed at St. Petersburg. An NAL spokesman said Williams was aboard on a routine assignment to observe route procedure.

It was the third skyjacking of the week.

Impasse Reached In Strike Talks

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — Angry state college trustees today had ended talks with striking teachers at San Francisco State College after failing to reach agreement over campus grievance procedures.

A four-man committee of trustees and representatives of American Federation of Teachers Local 1352 met behind closed doors for three days trying to settle the 25-day-old strike.

Louis Heilbron, San Francisco attorney who headed the committee, denounced the strikers last night for rejecting what he described as a fair proposal for settlement. He said it was pointless to continue negotiations.

"In this time of unrest and turmoil, when many of us would like to come to grips with the underlying difficulties and restore the rule of law and reason, we would have hoped that the members of the local would have shown a better sense of responsibility," Heilbron said.

Union sources said they felt the trustees' proposal was "irresponsible" because it failed to grant teachers protection from state government officials and a voice in college operations.

Heilbron said the proposed settlement may be recommended to the full board of trustees despite the union's rejection.

State Printing Setup Branded Antiquated

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature's financial expert suggests that the state junk the antiquated operation of the Office of State Printing and install modern equipment — to save $1.7 million over the next six years.

The recommendations were made today in a 53 - page report — printed on the Legislature's mimeograph machines—prepared by the office of legislative Analyst A. Alan Post.

Post's study, requested by the Legislature last year, revealed that compared with private industry, the state's printing plant has twice the number of people working in composition and binding operations.

And the average payroll cost per employee is nearly $4,000 higher than private industry. "This situation has a direct effect on the cost of the final product and is an indication of why private industry can be very competitive with the state printing plant," the report says.

The plant, which employs about 900 persons and turns out more than $17 million worth of material a year, still uses equipment purchased in 1910.

It also still employs linotype operators to set each line of copy into metal type. The latest study suggests that the hot metal letterpress operation be gradually phased out and offset facilities using photocomposition be purchased.

Management of the plant is so bad, the report says, that administrators sometimes receive reports on cost accounting, billing and management as much as 60 to 90 days late. And the office spends $200,000 a year for these reports.

Such delays, the report says, "make it impossible to utilize the reports for decision making by plant management."

The report recommends a long range plan be established to update the plant's equipment and processes and says this should be tied in with efforts to put some printing of agency publications and textbooks up for bidding by private printers.

Use of third - generation photocomposition systems, the report says, would allow the state to sell about 4,875,000 pounds of

Kosygin Health Rumors Denied

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet foreign ministry today denied "all rumors" about the health of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and said he will return to his duties "in the nearest future."

Leonid M. Zamyatin, head of the foreign ministry's press department, repeated earlier reports that Kosygin is vacationing near Moscow.

There have been widespread rumors that he is seriously ill with a liver ailment. The Moscow correspondent of the London Daily Express reported today that he has cirrhosis.

Reports that Kosygin is ill "do not correspond to reality," Zamyatin said when asked about the rumors at a news conference on Soviet tourism.

Gnoss Field Fatal Plane Facts Given

A federal investigation has shown that carburetor icing may have contributed to the Dec. 26 airplane crash at Gnoss Field, Novato, that killed a flight instructor and his student.

William Slater, air safety investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board in Oakland, said the low temperature and high humidity was conducive to icing of the carburetor.

Slater said a thorough analysis of the engine showed no failures or control problems. The throttle was in the full open position, the ignition on and the carburetor heat control in the full off position, he said.

Slater reported the plane had plenty of fuel with tests showing it was not contaminated.

It is still not determined who was flying the Piper Cherokee 140 although Filkorn was in the left hand, or pilot's seat of the dual-control plane.

Evidence is, Slater said, that the pair had made their first "touch and go" landing and was climbing after take off. At an altitude of about 200 feet when, witnesses said, the engine stopped.

The plane began a turn as if an attempt were being made to return to the field, when it stalled and plunged vertically into the marshland at the airport boundary.

Slater said the investigation is continuing and that a formal report may not be filed for four months.

Lawmakers Ask Drug Reform As Health Aid

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two assemblymen distressed by teen-ager drug and narcotics use in their suburban districts called today for legislation treating drug violations as a health problem, as well as a criminal offense.

Pete Wilson, R - San Diego, and John Vasconcellos, D - San Jose, said the stiff penalty laws enacted in the early 1960s have failed to stem the rising number of youthful arrests.

In separate interviews, both proposed the legislature expand the Public Health Department's division of alcoholism to a division of alcoholism and drug abuse. That would permit the state to intensify education and rehabilitation work, they said.

The state, said Wilson, must recognize it as a health problem as well as a criminal problem. He suggested "pilot programs where students who have been users and have ceased using can find help."

Vasconcellos said the harsh current policy is aimed at cutting off the supply of narcotics and drugs.

"You are playing all kinds of games in cutting off the supply, but the problem is cutting off the demand," he said.

The state, he said, must find out why there is drug abuse.

Both men's districts have been afflicted by the problem in recent years.

Vasconcellos, for example, represents an area of 300,000 people, whose average age is 22. Young

Navy Fails To Determine Cause Of Scorpion's Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy court of inquiry has failed in a nearly eight-month investigation to determine what caused the loss of the nuclear powered submarine Scorpion, it was announced today.

Making public a summary of the court's findings, the Navy said a deep-diving research submarine, the Trieste II, will attempt early this year to make a closeup observation of the wreckage more than two miles deep in the Atlantic in a further effort to discover evidence "which could be useful in determining a specific cause."

It said thousands of underwater photographs taken by cameras slung from the surface research ship Mizar did not produce an answer to the mystery of what happened to the $40 million atomic-powered submarine.

The Scorpion and its 99 crewmen disappeared last May some 400 miles southwest of the Azores while en route to Norfolk, Va., from a Mediterranean cruise.

The full report of the inquiry court was withheld, but the Navy said in its summary, "The certain cause of the loss of Scorpion cannot be ascertained from any evidence now available."

The court did eliminate two possible causes.

It concluded the Scorpion did not hit a seamount, or underwater ridge,,"Since there is none in the area where the submarine went to the bottom."

The Navy also said the court, after hearing expert testimony, dismissed "the nuclear reactor plant as a possible cause of the loss."

The seven-man court also found no evidence that any collision with another submarine or ship was responsible, the Navy said.

Sailors' Bodies Found Lashed To Wreckage

Half-buried in the sand beneath the boat were the bodies of Lee Baxter Franklin, 47, of Gate 5, Sausalito, and his crewman, Robert W. Bisch, 25, of San Francisco.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said the seamen were bound in Franklin's boat, "Wave Wings," for Hawaii and then the south seas.

Friends on the Sausalito waterfront said the pair left Wednesday for Tahiti. They got no farther than an off-shore storm that night. The boat was dismasted and swamped, then washed ashore in the surf.

Fontaine estimated both men had died from 12 to 18 hours before the boat was found at 10 a.m. yesterday. Both men drowned, but Bisch had been extensively battered as well, his chest crushed and his liver damaged before he died, Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said.

Franklin had lashed himself inside the cabin, and Bisch's body was tied by a safety line to the aluminum mast.

The wreck area was littered with canned food, bread, eggs, 60 to 70 plastic water bottles, foul weather gear and the other paraphernalia of an ocean voyage. Coroner's officers stripped the area of all valuable items to save them from scavengers.

Funeral for both men is pending at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

Bisch, a native of Pennsylvania, had been in the Bay Area since September. He is survived by a wife, Ethel, two children, Dennis and Mindy, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bisch, all of Philadelphia.

Little information was available today about Franklin, but the coroner's office said he was believed to be single and had lived in Fairbanks, Alaska, before coming to Sausalito.

Residents Urged To Boil Water

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin health officer, said today residents of about 40 homes at Paradise Ranch Estates near Inverness have been warned to boil tap water as a precaution against bacteria.

No illness was reported. Dr. Albrecht said bacteria had appeared irregularly in routine tests of the water during the past few weeks.

She said owners of the estates' own water company were seeking to find the trouble and correct it. She hoped the condition would be cleared up by next week.

Dr. Albrecht said residents had complained of the water's bad odor and turbidity but this was due to bad weather and presented no danger.

De Gaulle Visit Sparks Brawling In Brittany

RENNES, France (AP) — Opponents and supporters of Charles de Gaulle came to blows in front of City Hall here today as the president began a tour of Brittany, a hotbed of separatist activity.

De Gaulle was inside city hall when the brawling began amid shouts of "Vive de Gaulle" and "Free Brittany." One man was injured in the fighting.

De Gaulle arrived from Paris this afternoon. He ignored catcalls to plunge into the crowd to shake outstretched hands.

He came to Rennes as the first stop of a two-day tour of Brittany, an economically backward province in western France where the separatist agitation has led to isolated bombings.

While he was inside the building looking at plans for new sections of the city, a number of the 3,000-4,000 persons massed on the square raised their fists and shouted "Free Bretagne."

Pro-Gaullists countered with "Vive de Gaulle" and raised their hands to make the "V" for victory sign.

Police separated the two groups. When De Gaulle came out of the City Hall, the hostile shouting continued, and the Gaullists did their best to drown out the protesters.

Nader Aides Defend FTC Criticisms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three young men working with Ralph Nader today defended their criticism of the Federal Trade Commission and denied they had destructive motives in issuing it.

They said that their conclusions and recommendations "continue to demand swift and thorough public attention and congressional action." The young men worked under Nader, a critic of the auto industry and other business groups.

Their statement was a rebuttal to FTC Chairman Paul Rand Dixon's reply to their report.

The report, based on a summer-long investigation, said the FTC has failed in its mission to protect the American consumer from business evils. Dixon replied on Jan. 9, four days after it was issued, that the attack on his agency was hysterical and untruthful.

The rebuttal was made by Robert C. Fellmeth, a Harvard Law School student; Edward Cox, a Yale law student; and John Schulz, an assistant law professor at the University of Southern California.

'UNBELIEVABLE'

Past Favor Is Repaid By Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the raging downpours finally let up this week after nine days of almost continuous rain, actress Neva Patterson stepped out of her home for a look at possible damage.

She was shocked.

The house itself was intact but a sea of mud and debris covered the driveway and front yard.

"I started to worry about how I could ever get dug out," she said today, "when these unbelievable people showed up."

The "unbelievable people" were Negroes from the Watts Labor Community Action Committee, founded four years ago —after the devastating riots—to provide training and work for thousands of underprivileged Negroes. All volunteers, they brought their own shovels to attack the mud.

Miss Patterson's home is located along Mandeville Canyon Road, a picturesque zig-zag which skirts steep canyon walls down to Hollywood's famed Sunset Boulevard.

As one of the Watts' residents, Ellsworth Freeman, put it: "This is a white area, but people from here have helped us in the past with contributions for our projects. This was our chance to repay them."

Thousands of homes in Southern California were damaged by mudslides, or flood-waters, during the storm.

The crew attacking the mud at Miss Patterson's home was supervised by Henry Franklin, a quiet man in his 40s. As the score or so men packed their gear, Miss Patterson, a character actress best known for her role as David's mother in the film "David and Lisa," asked him:

"How much do I owe you?"

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Spy Accusation

BAGHDAD (AP) — Baghdad radio said today American engineer Paul Bail was arrested in Iraq for "actions related to spying" and may be released within the next few days.

The broadcast did not specify whom Bail was accused of acting for, but it added that "the government, acting from a postion of strength, will be tolerant toward him."

The announcement confirmed reports in Washington that Bail had been picked up in connection with Iraq's growing spy hunt.

Yale Cuts ROTC

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)— The faculty of Yale College has voted to withdraw academic credit from military courses in Yale's Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) programs and relegate them to extra curricular status.

In its vote yesterday the faculty requested Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr. and the Yale Corporation to begin negotiations with the U.S. Department of Defense to change the university's existing contracts.

The Yale Corp., the university's board of trustees, could consider the faculty decision at its meeting tomorrow. The corporation must approve the action before it can be implemented.

$27,222 Check For Marin Land

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The state Parks and Recreation Department yesterday reimbursed Marin County $27,222 for a 10.9 acre tideland parcel in Bolinas Lagoon bought in June by the county.

The purchase was part of a county plan for a 100-acre park on the lagoon, the cost to be met entirely through state and federal funds.

The reimbursement was the state's first payment toward an approved grant of $172,500 for the park, and came from the State 1964 State Park Bond Act. Under the act, Marin was apportioned $453,150.

Juvenile Court Bars Hearing On Marijuana

Marin Juvenile Court has refused to try Gary Reid Steadman, 19, of 100 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, it was reported yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. Steadman is accused of possessing marijuana on Jan. 10 in Corte Madera.

A preliminary hearing on the charge will be held March 21 at 2 p.m. in Municipal Court.

Radiation Belittled

MOSCOW (AP) — The four Soviet cosmonauts who carried out the first manned linkup in space this month were exposed to a dose of radiation no stronger than a patient gets during an xray examination of the chest, Deputy Health Minister Avetik Burnazyan reported today.

He said the four spacemen returned in good health.

Johnson Guarded

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Johnson has been assigned 26 Secret Service men, two limousines and a pickup truck for travel around his Texas ranch, the Chicago Tribune reported today.

In addition, the Tribune said in a story from its Washington Bureau, Rep. Charlotte T. Reid, R-Ill., disclosed that the government leases 15 other vehicles to transport the Secret Service guards protecting the former President and Mrs. Johnson.

LBJ Refuses Offer

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson has ruled out a winter vacation at the home owned here by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas for security reasons, reliable sources said.

Rockefeller invited Johnson and his wife to use his ranch-style house starting in early February. The home is on a main residential street and motorists driving by slowly can peek through the glass front door into the living room.

Some sources said here Johnson might still come to this desert resort but stay at a location providing more security than the Rockefeller residence.

Auto Sales Slow

DETROIT (AP)—A stockpile of a record of 1.6 million autos at factory and dealer lots is blamed by Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. as the primary reason for cutbacks in production announced last week.

But executives caution that this is no need for alarm and that although sales are usually slow in winter months they will pick up soon.

G.M. said yesterday sales in 1968 were $22.8 billion and bettered the previous company record of $20.7 billion set in 1965. Chrysler, meanwhile, reported sales of $7.4 billion last year compared with the previous record of $6.2 billion in 1967.

Black Studies Set

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State College will have a black studies department when school opens next fall, President Robert D. Clark has announced.

Of the 350 Negro students here, 117 have expressed an interest in the new curriculum, but whether those who major in the new field will get their degree in it or in the humanities is a question to be decided by the trustees and Chancellor Glenn Dumke, Clark said yesterday.

Moscow Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP)— A Soviet Army lieutenant who borrowed a policeman's uniform fired the shots at a mortocade carrying government leaders and cosmonauts last week, then died almost immediately, the Washington Post said today.

The Post, in a dispatch from Moscow by Anatole Shub, identified the man as a Lt. Ilyin of the Soviet Army Engineers, based at Leningrad.

It said he took poison and was slugged by Kremlin guards who foiled the assassination attempt inside the Kremlin's Borovitsky Gate Jan. 22.

POW Visit Related

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese correspondent reported today that he visited an American prisoner of war camp in North Vietnam and found the American prisoners "surprisingly cheerful."

The correspondent of Denpa News, a leftist Japanese news agency, said he was the first Japanese to visit an American POW camp. His report was published in Tokyo newspapers along with a photograph of two young American prisoners lining up plates in the dining hall.

Rail Crash Kills 31

SEOUL (AP) — At least 31 persons were killed and 77 others injured today in the collision of two passenger trains in a snowstorm 60 miles south of Seoul, railway officials reported.

Some press reports said about 50 persons were killed. Officials said it was South Korea's worst railway disaster.

It was the fourth day of heavy snow, the heaviest in 50 years, and some 300 passengers were reported stranded on six buses on a mountain road about 50 miles east of Seoul. There are no villages in the area, and the travelers were reported suffering from hunger and cold.

Nixon Asks Plan For Ending Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to set up a special commission "to develop a detailed plan of action for ending the draft."

The request announced by the White House yesterday represented one of several small steps taken at the same time to redeem campaign pledges.

These steps gained added impetus today with Nixon's planned statement to Congress, calling for more policemen, judges and prosecutors to curb crime in the nation's capital.

That late afternoon message was on a schedule including a trip to the Pentagon for a briefing with the Joint Chiefs of Staff and a pep talk to lower echelon defense officials.

Shortly before going to the Pentagon, Nixon made an unannounced visit to a Negro slum area of Washington, wrecked by riots last April, to watch the start of a rebuilding project.

Nixon shook hands with several Negroes in a crowd and said of the rebuilding job, "We'll all act together."

During the campaign, Nixon repatedly pledged an all-out effort to combat crime, particularly in Washington which he said should be a national model.

On the draft question, the White House said Laird "was advised of the President's conviction that an all-volunteer armed force be established after the expenditures for Vietnam are substantially reduced."

During the campaign, Nixon estimated creation of a volunteer army would cost $5 billion to $7 billion in pay raises. But he said part of that extra spending would be offset by reduced training costs.

Underground Base Found

SAIGON (AP) — American air cavalrymen have uncovered a huge North Vietnamese base spread over four square miles northwest of Saigon. U.S. officers said they think it was being built in preparation for a winter-spring offensive.

The base is believed to be the largest ever uncovered in the war and could accommodate perhaps 5,000 or more enemy troops. It contained hundreds of bunkers, a large underground hospital, dining halls, a bicycle repair shop, and a command post.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division came on the base while on a sweep along jungle trails in the long-time Viet Cong stronghold known as War Zone C. The base was found some 53 miles northwest of Saigon and 14 miles south of the Cambodian border.

One tortoise existsd on the Indian Ocean island of Mauritius from 1766 to 1918, when it was accidentally killed.

END OF A FATAL VOYAGE

A sailboat, in which two men perished not long after sailing out of Sausalito Wednesday, ends its bravely started voyage with this grim overland haul. Asst. Marin County Coroner Eugene R. Novato Area Homeowner Groups Hear Districts Merger Debated

Representatives of the three parties involved in the proposed merger of the North Marin County Water District with the Novato Sanitary District appeared last night before the North Marin Federation, a new alliance of homeowners groups in the area.

The water district board, with endorsement from the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, has voted to absorb the sanitary district, with members of the sanitary board and city officials disapproving. An election is scheduled April 15.

Mrs. Jean T. Owens, recording secretary of the federation, said Councilman J. Wayne Womack; Edwin Grundstrom Jr., a member of the sanitary district board; Arnold E. Heise, chairman of the water district board, and Jerome B. Gilbert, water district manager, spoke to the group and answered questions.

Mrs. Owens said homeowner representatives will return to their organizations and report for a possible stand on the election. Federation action then may be sought, she said.

In other business at the meeting at Marion School, Novato, the federation received for review reports on the tax impact of mobile homes on communities throughout the state. In view of plans for a large mobile home development at Black Point, Mrs. Owens said, the federation wants homeowner groups to explore adverse impact on the tax base because of a possible influx of children and depreciation of the mobile homes.

The federation also voted to write to its representatives in Washington urging prompt action by the federal government to enable telephone companies to provide cable use to cable TV companies.

Creation of a North Marin Planning Commission, new plans for the once-troubled Bahia Subdivision and the Jenkins recommendation that the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District enter the transit business will be discussed at the next meeting of the federation at 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of the president, Arnold Baptiste.

Camera Stolen

Burglars took an 8 mm movie camera, watch and .25-caliber automatic pistol from the home of Clara Vorschberg, 1004 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, between 11:55 a.m. and 3:45 p.m. yesterday, police reported. Loss was estimated at $65.

Pair Arrested As Suspects Of Possessing Pot

A man and woman were booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of possessing marijuana yesterday after their car was stopped for an equipment violation, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

William Harold Garner, 30, of the Coast Gallery, Big Sur, and Diony Louise Welch, 32, of the Industrial Center Building, Sausalito, each posted $1,250 bail to appear Monday in Marin Municipal Court. Miss Welch was also booked on suspicion of having paraphernalia for using drugs.

The highway patrol said a patrolman stopped the pair's car at 5 p.m. on Highway 101 at California Park Hill because a fender was missing. As he approached, the officer reported, he saw the woman hide something in her coat, and as he took Garner's identification he noticed "an overpowering smell of marijuana" in the car.

On a search, the woman produced three bags of suspected pot, the officer reported, plus a pipe and a roach clip (a device for holding a marijuana cigarette). A marijuana butt was found on the car floor, the officer said.

Christmas cards, which first were used in quanity around 1860, were called a great social evil by the Times of London in 1877.

STATE

ing faculty members, a "fact-finding" investigation by educator John Gardner of teachers' demands for a work-load reduction, and creation of "impartial committees" of teachers, and administrators from other campuses to act as appeals courts on rulings of college presidents which overturn local faculty decisions.

The appeals committee was the key demand. The union rejected it on grounds the committees would include administrators under "dictation" from Gov. Ronald Reagan and other state officials.

The local proposed three-man appeals committees with one member named by the complaining teacher, one by the college president and the third mutually agreed upon by them. The trustees rejected the proposal during an 11-hour meeting Wednesday night.

At the college itself yesterday, a threatened showdown between embittered students and police failed to occur as about 400 policemen — some on horseback — stood guard.

About 500 student strike supporters generally obeyed a court order and joined striking teachers on the perimeter of the 18,000-student campus, located near the ocean.

Everybody else went to class.

There were three arrests, one connected with the only major disturbance of the day that came when police moved to clear a busy intersection in front of the campus.

Bottles and other objects came hurtling out of a crowd of 150 but none of the policemen was injured.

JET

vana, and three others diverted an Eastern jet carrying 113 persons.

This month's record number of nonscheduled flights to Cuba began Jan. 2 when an Eastern jet with 148 persons aboard en route from New York to Miami was hijacked.

The year's "biggest" hijacking occurred Jan. 19 when 168 passengers and a crew of eight visited Cuba aboard an Eastern jet New York-to-Miami flight. The same day an Ecuadorian airliner with 71 persons was commandeered over South America by an air piracy brigade of 15 young people and forced to Havana.

In each hijacking case this year the pattern had been for the crew to fly the plane to Miami and the passengers to go by bus to Varadero, 60 miles east of Havana. From Varadero, planes are sent to pick up the passengers. The hijackers remain in Havana, and what happens to them is not known here.

Two California prison escapees were charged yesterday with Tuesday's National Airlines hijacking. The FBI filed kidnaping and piracy charges in Miami against Byron Vaughn Booth and Clinton R. Smith. It said the two, serving robbery sentences in a California prison, escaped the day before the hijacking. The men presumably remained in Cuba.

Theft Of Shotgun, Rifle Is Reported

Mark W. Banks of 117 Birch Way, Santa Venetia, reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday that someone had stolen a shotgun and a rifle from his unlocked garage.

J. E. Thompson of Buena Vista Road, Fairfax, said that on the same day his home had been entered and cameras, photographic equipment, a tape recorder, guitar and musical equipment had been taken.

Windows Of Two Cars Are Broken

Windows were broken on two cars parked all day Wednesday on the Marinwood overpass of Highway 101, the owners reported to the sheriff's office.

Donald Watson of 48 Canyon Oak Drive, San Rafael, said that one window in his car had been broken and an umbrella stolen. Robert Andrew MacDonald of 9 Conchita Court, Novato, said that all the windows of his auto had been smashed.

Strikers At U.C. Minus Two Leaders

BERKELEY (AP) — striking students at the University of California returned to the picket lines today minus two leaders arrested yesterday when demonstrators blocked campus entrances.

They faced continued "restrained use of police" — as a university administration statement late Thursday night put it. This is the seventh day of their strike to back up demands for an autonomous minority studies college with expanded admissions and aid for minority students.

The first two arrested in the current strike were Jim Nabors, last year's chairman of the Afro-American Student Union, and Albert Wesley, a Negro sociology major.

Campus police reinforced by sheriff's deputies made two sallies during the day to clear campus entrances where student pickets were blocking the way.

Carl Mack of the Third World Liberation Front, which is directing the strike, said student leaders no longer could guarantee peaceful picketing if outside police remained on the campus.

"This atmosphere tends to destroy any air of reason that might prevail," he said.

The administration statement charged last night that crowds of demonstrators violated campus rules "despite assurances last week by the Third World Liberation Front that pickets would not obstruct others' passage or threaten violence."

"Identified students who violated campus regulations will be subject to disciplinary action," continued the statement. "Some 25 students were identified violating campus rules on previous days and will be charged under university procedures."

The statement said the chancellor and his staff have been meeting with many persons in efforts to resolve the academic issues posed by the students."

"On Monday, at the meeting of the Berkeley division of the Academic Senate, the chancellor will give a full account to the university community of the issues and progress with respect to ethnic studies," the statement concluded.

Suspect Booked In Drug Probe

Frank Emory Prewett of Elm Road, Bolinas, was arrested early this morning by Mill Valley police on suspicion of possession of dangerous drugs and a narcotic injecting device.

Prewett posted $315 bail to appear at 2 p.m. Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said residents on Cottage Avenue complained at 1 a.m. of suspicious activity in a car parked on the street. Investigating officers stopped the car as it was leaving the area and searched it, uncovering what appeared to be dangerous drugs, police said.

Driver's Condition Is Listed As Poor

Cynthia L. Dubain, 19, of 36 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, was reported in poor condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with a skull fracture, broken ribs and a scalp cut suffered when her car skidded into a center rail and overturned on the San Rafael overpass on Highway 101 at 8:10 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Miss Dubain, a student at Dominican College, was thrown from her car as it rolled over, the highway patrol said.

Israeli Artists To Display Works

An exhibit by contemporary Israeli artists will open at the College of Marin Art Gallery with a public reception from 8 to 10 p.m. Wednesday.

The exhibit, which includes paintings, drawings, watercolors, silkscreens and graphic by 15 artists, will be on display through March 7. Gallery hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.

DRUGS

people abound, he said, and so does drug abuse.

Wilson recalls that a meeting on the problem at one of his local high schools drew a crowd of almost 1,500 parents.

Their areas are typical of the rest of the state, according to figures of the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics.

Narcotics arrests in the first six months of 1968 were up 40 per cent from the same period in 1967.

They are up 230 per cent from 1960 — the year before the legislature passed the stiffest narcotic laws in state history.

Wilson made it clear he wasn't advocating repealing the tough laws. But he said "there is nothing inconsistent with viewing it as a public health problem without repealing criminal sanctions."

type metal which is kept on hand for the updating of legislative bills. This metal containing 750,000 pages of legislation, is conservatively estimated to be worth $100,000.

Three earlier studies of the printing operation have suggested major modernization and changes, but the report says: "Of these recommendations, the executive branch of California government, the administration of the Department of General Services and the state printer have only succeeded in accomplishing the first recommendation, the installation of two web offset presses."

Suspect Booked On Auto Theft

A 26-year-old man who allegedly stole a pickup from a West Marin ranch yesterday at about 7:30 a.m. was arrested by sheriff's deputies a few miles from the ranch.

Thomas Patrick Gill, of no known address, was booked in the county jail on suspicion of auto theft as well as suspicion of being under the influence of either drugs or alcohol and disturbing the peace. He was held with bail set at $625 and ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Deputies said that the truck was taken from the Daniel Hagmeir ranch on Highway 1 about six miles south of Olema. After the ranch owner's wife saw the truck being driven away, she called the sheriff's office.

Gill was stopped about two miles south of Point Reyes.

Woman Injured In Auto Crash

Mrs. Jessie L. Reasoner, 63, of Belvedere and Lincoln Avenue, Stinson Beach, was treated for back strain and a cut lip yesterday at Marin General Hospital after a head-on collision on Panoramic Highway, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred at 9:15 p.m. near the Mountain Home Inn when a car driven by Michael R. Gettle, 17, of San Francisco, skidded over the center line into Mrs. Reasoner's car.

Gettle was cited for failure to maintain control on a mountain road and Mrs. Reasoner was cited for having no driver's license in her possession.

Car Collapses On Man During Work

A Petaluma man was injured yesterday at 11 a.m. when his car collapsed on him while he was working under it at his home.

Bernard E. Ransbottom, 57, of 135 Belle View Avenue, was reported in very poor condition at Hillcrest Hospital today with head and chest injuries. Hospital officials said the brakes gave away, dropping the car on top of him.

Harbor Panel Lets County Review Books

The Bolinas Harbor District board agreed last night to submit its financial records to the county auditor for review as requested last October by the board of supervisors.

Commissioners noted that earlier objections to a county audit had been removed "by resignation and the voters' action," President Thomas J. Barfield said.

District voters last November elected new commissioner Frances B. Stewart to succeed Gene W. McDaniel, who did not run because he had moved from the district.

The district books were audited by the county until 1966 when a private auditor was hired because the district "came under attack," McDaniel said last fall.

Supervisors have scheduled an election March 11 on dissolving the district. Dissoultion is backed by some conservative groups because of lagoon development plans presented two years ago which called for a 1,600-boat marina.

The board also heard reports on plans to place a wave study gauge in Bolinas Bay and on county plans to buy lagoon shoreline property owned by William Albright.

Power Failure In Beach Area

Residents of Stinson Beach, Bolinas and Muir Beach were plunged into cold and darkness early today by an electricity failure which lasted nearly four hours.

Electricity to the coast communities failed at 3:33 a.m. A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. representative said cause of the failure was still unknown at noon and workmen were patrolling the lines to find the break.

Service was restored in all areas by rerouting power into the area. Stinson Beach was last to get its electricity back at 7:14 a.m. Bolinas and Muir Beach were back in service by 5:42 a.m., PG&E said. An estimated 350 customers were affected by the outage.

Kimmel is accused of using minors to obtain marijuana for him, possessing marijuana and resisting arrest. He was fired by the school district after his arrest in November.

The hearing, to determine whether Kimmel will be prosecuted in Superior Court, began yesterday. The press and public has been barred from the courtroom after Kimmel's attorney said that further publicity would be prejudicial to his client.

Speaker for the evening will be Rev. James W. McDonald, assistant pastor of the Church of the Incarnation, Santa Rosa.

Adult Eagle Scouts and alumni may attend. Reservations may be made at the council service center in Petaluma.

OBITUARIES

Franc M. Elliott Dies At 90

Funeral for Franc Merchant Elliott of Sausalito, newspaperwoman, publicist and musician, will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at the Halstead and Co. chapel in San Francisco. Burial will be at Woodlawn Cemetery in Colma.

Mrs. Elliott died Wednesday at a San Francisco hospital following a short illness. She was 90.

Born in New York City, Mrs. Elliott majored in music at the University of Michigan and was a concert pianist for several years.

In the early 1920s she moved to San Francisco where she worked as a reporter for a San Francisco daily newspaper and did free lance writing.

She and her husband, Harry C. Elliott were partners in the newspaper and public relations business, and owned the Sausalito News from 1924 to 1927.

Their public relations business in San Francisco had among its clients, the Ford Motor Co. for more than 30 years and many movie celebrities, including Maurice Chevalier.

Mrs. Elliott continued to manage the public relations business following her husband's death in 1948.

She was listed in Who's Who in America for more than 10 years and in 1921 was the first woman to fly between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

She had lived in Sausalito since 1924 at 54 Spencer Avenue in Red Gables, a Victorian mansion designed by Frederick Russell in 1880.

Her home was noted for its garden, in which grew 48 varities of camelias; its aviary, which housed 100 canaries, and the Egyptian room which contained furniture which had been featured in the 1926 Sesquicentennial fair in Philadelphia.

She was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, American Descendants of Colonial Clergy, and was a past regent of La Puerto de Oro chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in San Francisco.

She was also a life member of Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music fraternity, a member of the San Francisco Musical Club and the California Federation of Music Clubs and was a recognized expert in the music of American Indians.

She was a past president of the San Francisco branch of the National League of American Pen Women and a member of the Press and Union League Club of San Francisco.

She has no survivors.

Hub Tot Play Areas Studied

The San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission took no action Wednesday night on a proposal to add four tiny tot playground areas.

At present there is only one tiny tot lot, at Memorial Park, according to Frank L. Quinn, parks and recreation director. He said a study is being made of possible sites for the other four.

Quinn told the commission that the 17-room mansion at the newly-acquired Robson-Harrington Park property is now available for meetings by San Anselmo clubs and organizations, and furniture donations are sought.

Mother, Child Hurt In Crash

A Novato woman and her 6-year-old son were treated for multiple bruises yesterday after a three-car collision on highway 101 at 6:05 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

Treated were Mrs. Donna M. Eddy, 26, of 1136 Third Street, Apt. 3, Novato, and her son, Christopher J. Eddy.

The highway patrol said the accident occurred on the San Rafael overpass when traffic stopped and a car driven by John Vatinelle, 32, of 19154 Arnold Drive, Sonoma, hit the rear of a car driven by George J. Hinard, 50, of 49 Cushing Avenue, Santa Venetia. Mrs. Eddy's car then hit Vatinelle's car.

ROBERT H. DAY

Memorial service for Robert H. Day, 35, of Davis, was held Wednesday in the United Methodist Church in Davis.

He was the son of Elias S. Day, retired North Bay division manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. The elder Day lived in San Rafael from 1955 until moving to Jackson, Amador County, about six months ago.

Robert Day, a pharmacist, died Monday at a Davis hospital following an operation for brain cancer three months ago.

A native of Oakland, Day grew up in Jackson and had lived in Davis for nine years. He had served as chairman of the Yolo County Planning Commission and a member of the City of Davis Planning Commission and was a member of the board of trustees of the Davis Unified School District.

Survivors are his wife, Sheila; two children, John and Sharyn Day, both of the home; his parents and a brother, John Day of Los Angeles.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Yolo County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, 327 College Street, Woodland.

CHARLES WHITE

Retired Navy Capt. Charles Forrest White, 71, died yesterday in his Ross home at 90 Laurel Grove Avenue after a long illness.

A native of Seattle, Wash., he lived in California for 54 years, the past 32 in Marin.

White served in the Navy during World War 1 in Europe, and as port captain in Long Beach before he and his wife, Gladys, moved here in 1937.

After moving to Marin, he worked as a San Francisco Bar Pilot for 27 years. In 1967, he was appointed to the Board of Pilot Commissioners for San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun Bays by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

White and his wife, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last August, were active for many years in the American Red Cross and other organizations in Marin. Mrs. White was a founder of the Junior Theater of Marin.

Captain White also is survived by a son, Charles Robert White of Ross; a daughter, Mrs. Diana W. Volk of Ross; and five grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church, Ross.

FREDERICK ILG

Frederick George Ilg, 82, of 1105 Thompson Lane, Petaluma, a retired poultry and dairy rancher, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Born and educated in San Francisco, he moved to Petaluma in 1920 where he was a rancher. Ilg retired in 1965.

He was a member and past president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, a 40-year member and past president of the Young Men's Institute, and secretary-treasurer of the Wilson Farm Bureau Center of Petaluma.

Ilg is survived by two sons, Melvin Ilg of Petaluma and George Ilg of Fresno, and a sister, Mrs. Matilda Reiff of Redwood City.

Requiem Mass will be said at 11 a.m. Monday at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Petaluma. Ensombment will be at Calvary Cemetery. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma.

LEO WHITNEY

Leo Charles Whitney of Mill Valley, creator of San Francisco's famed oceanside Whitney's Playland, died yesterday at Marin General Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage after he had collapsed at his home Wednesday.

An autopsy report on Whitney, 84, is pending, according to the Marin County Coroner's office.

A native of Kansas, Whitney had lived in California for 43 years. For the past seven years he lived in Marin County, first in Tiburon and most recently at 169 Miller Avenue.

Before he retired a few years ago, Whitney was owner and operator of the playland, a mecca for years for children throughout the Bay Area.

He is survived by his daughter, Marguerite Ford of San Mateo; two sisters, Mrs. Paul Massinghan of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Roger Hannaford of La Jolla and two grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Home 270 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. Burial will be private. Contributions to favorite charities are preferred.

Two Wichita, Kan., firemen (one in the water) pull 21-year-old Ronald Roberts from the middle of the frozen Arkansas River. Roberts was taking a shortcut across the river yesterday when ice broke and he fell into the icy water. He held on to a chunck of ice for more than 20 minutes before being rescued.

Four Filings To Date For School Seats

Four persons including three incumbents have filed candidacy papers for election to school district boards.

Gloria Melbostad, president of the Tamalpais High School District board, is seeking re-election. She resides at 355 Vista Linda Drive, Mill Valley. Terms of Mrs. Melbostad, Berton C. Jacobson, and William B. Lewis expire June 30.

Jacobson resigned Nov. 10 and David D. Ring was named to that post pending the April 15 election. No other person has yet filed for any of the three posts.

John R. B. Ellis of 225 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, and Gloria M. Riccardi, 39 Corte Gracitas, Greenbrae, both incumbents on the Kentfield School District board, have filed for re-election. Posts of Ellis, Mary Bingham and Gloria Riccardi are to be filled.

Mary Helen Olive, a leader in resistance to dividing Tamalpais High School District into smaller districts, has filed for the San Anselmo School District board. She resides at 7 Agatha Court, San Anselmo.

Posts of Pieter Toal; Robert W. Corlett and Franklin C. Latcham will be filled.

Fairfax Area Owners Sue Over Devaluation

A group of people who claim that a 180-acre parcel of land near Fairfax which they bought in 1967 has been greatly decreased in value by the Fairfax General Plan has filed suit against the county, as well as the people who sold them the property and others involved in the sale.

Burnett and Betty F. Bolloten and William H. and Ilse C. Poeschl and others today filed suit in Marin Superior Court asking $290,000 damages.

Named as defendants were the County of Marin, Adalbert Von Rotz, James E. and Mildred H. Simon, Orlando F. and Marie L. Denning, Wallace S. Myers, Eugene A. Ostaggi, Dave Cohn, Walter Ballard, the Frank Howard Allen real estate firm and 10 John Does.

The Bollotens and Poeschls claim that when they purchased the land they were told that it could be subdivided for homes and apartments.

Now under the plan adopted by the county, the parcel has been zoned "open area" with only .25 units allowed for each acre.

The landowners claim they tried to re-sell the land to the original owners after discovering the change in zoning in 1968 but were not allowed to do so.

Sgt. Sunshine Free For Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sgt. Sunshine, a former police officer convicted of smoking marijuana, is out of jail on his own recognizance pending an appeal of his conviction in Superior Court.

Richard Bergess, nicknamed Sgt. Sunshine by hippie friends, was convicted of smoking marijuana on the Hall of Justice steps in a protest against laws concerning the weed.

Judge Robert Drewes sentenced him to nine months in jail last week but decided to free him without bail yesterday.

The judge's action came after Contra Costa County judges decided to allow Bergess to remain free without bail on new marijuana charges growing out of a raid on the suspended policeman's house in Walnut Creek.

Jaw Is Broken

Edmund B. Greenwood, 32, of 37 Greenbrae Boardwalk, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a broken jaw after his car skidded into a bank on Highway 101 near the Waldo Tunnel at 3:50 a.m. today, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Fire Chief Asks Raises In Kentfield

A fiscal mid-year salary increase request for firemen was presented to the Kentfield Fire District Board last night, then tabled for consideration at a special meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 13 at the fire station.

Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp, who made the request, said he is seeking an approximate 3.5 per cent hike for the four firemen, and an 8 per cent hike for the four officers. At present, the annual payroll totals $78,461. The raise would increase the total to $82,500, said Kamp, a difference of $4,039.

Kamp said the raise is needed to bring salaries up to the average in Marin County. He said an approximate 5 per cent raise was given firemen at start of this fiscal year last July, and 7 per cent hikes were given officers. The payroll total was $73,877 prior to that hike, said Kamp.

Also to be discussed at the special meeting, he added, will be a proposal by Union Oil Co. that the district trade about 1,300 square feet of property at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Maple Maple Avenue — where the company plans to build a service station — in return for 2,500 square feet of company-owned land behind the fire station.

The parcel could be used for additional parking and firemen training ground, said Kamp.

The board approved the purchase of a $345 tape recorder for emergency fire calls, and $220 for an electric smoke ejector.

Four Homeowners Due Sewer Backup Payments

Four homeowners who suffered from sewer backup last november and December will be paid by the Las Gallinas Sanitary District for damages incurred but not for personal labor, district directors decided last night.

The district will pay the claims without admitting negligence, the directors decided. "I plan to deliver the checks on Monday," said Mrs. Lelia Sayers, district secretary.

Robert L. Sideroff of 324 Arias Drive, Terra Linda, will get $998; James Elliett of 325 Arias, $808; Ray L. Benningson of 1296 Idylberry, Drive, Lucas Valley, $847; and William Carlson of 1295 Idylberry, $304. Total payment is $2,957.

The sewer backed up on Arias last Nov. 22, and on Idylberry on Dec. 17.

Directors decided that if a sewer backup occurs in the future, the district will get a maintenance service to help homeowners clean up, without admitting liability.

Directors also decided to review the present insurance provided by St. Paul Insurance Co. and consider some changes when it comes up for renewal in March. One change discussed last night was to raise the deductible from the present $750 to $1,000 or $2,000, so that the district will have more freedom to move in to help homeowners when backup occurs.

Youth Accused Of Seven-Victim Ax Killing Spree

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (UPI)—Six members of a Metis Indian family and their house guest were axed to death yesterday in their home in a remote village 230 miles northwest of here.

A 19-year-old youth, Frederick M. McCallum was charged with seven counts of non-capital murder late yesterday in the slayings at Buffalo Narrows.

An eight-year-old boy, Fred Pedersen, was the lone survivor of the post-midnight slaughter. The boy was flown by air ambulance late yesterday to Saskatoon for treatment of critical head injuries, including skull fractures and possible brain damage.

Trio Is Booked On Drug Probe

Three men and a woman who appeared to have all the makings of an LSD factory were arrested yesterday in a Bolinas apartment by sheriff's deputies after one man had been observed acting strangely on the street outside.

Deputies said there was no evidence of LSD being manufactured at the time of the arrest, but that the equipment for doing so was found in the Main Street apartment.

Booked on charges of possessing dangerous drugs and narcotics paraphernalia were Bruce Dennis Powlson, 19, and Anne Marion Mygard, 24, both of West Port, Mendocino County; Edgar Thomas Brame, 37, and Norman Brian Rawlin, 18, both of San Francisco.

All made bail of $625 each and were ordered to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Monday.

Weissich Will Form New Firm With Lachelt

William O. Weissich, prominent San Rafael attorney and former Marin County district attorney, today said he is leaving the law firm of Bagshaw, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan to start a new firm.

His partnership in the firm ends today, and he will associate with another attorney, Theodore C. Lachelt of San Anselmo, as Weissich and Lachelt.

Their office, in the penthouse of the Kaehler-Farrar Building, 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael, is to open about Feb. 15.

Weissich's old firm will change its name to Bagshaw, Martinelli Corrigan and Jordan. Weissich was with the firm since 1960, when he left the district attorney's office after serving there for 10 years. William G. Corrigan has been with the firm 10 years.

Lachelt has been practicing in Marin for about three years.

Candidates Get On School Ballot

Two Southernr Sonomans have filed candidacy papers for election to school district boards.

Brand T. Johnson, 10 Highland Road, Petaluma, filed for re-election to the Sonoma County School Board, representing the southern district. Johnson is a retired chemistry teacher.

Lester H. Petersen, 405 West Sierra Avenue, Cotati, has filed for re-election to the Cotati School District trustees. Petersen, who operates a well drilling business, presently serves as president of the board.

The terms of Lucien Libarle and Richard A. Clarey will also expire in the Cotati School District.

Hospital Panel Members Seated

Three new directors of the Petaluma Hospital District were seated last night and all board officers re-elected.

County Clerk Eugene D. Williams gave the oath of office to re-elected directors Clyde A. Nelson Jr. and Dr. Hamza I. Munib and new board member William A. Perry Jr.

The directors heard a report from Loree Smith, Hillcrest Hospital administrator, that construction is progressing well on the new intensive care unit. The wing is expected to open in two months.

Was Bucher A 'Bus Driver' For Data Unit?

CORONADO (AP) — The question of how much authority Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher really had over intelligence operations on his ship seems to be getting a thorough airing before the court of inquiry into the capture of the USS Pueblo.

The question came into focus as Lt. Stephen R. Harris, in charge of the Pueblo's intelligence gathering mission, spent two hours in closed-door testimony yesterday and was ordered to return Monday.

The court went into a three-day recess for the weekend at a Navy doctor's recommendation to give Bucher a chance to rest. He testified nearly all of last week and has attended every session, open or closed. In addition, the court of five admirals wanted to catch up with administrative chores.

KEY WITNESS

Harris was regarded as a key witness because Bucher testified early in his story of the capture that he had told the 30-year-old lieutenant to destroy material which fell into the hands of the North Koreans.

The Navy declined to tell about Harris' testimony, saying it was classified in the interest of national defense. But a spokesman said it concerned the "operation and mission" of the Pueblo that Harris was questioned by counsel for the court and Bucher, and that Harris was not warned he was under any suspicion of breaking any Navy regulations. Such a warning has been given to Bucher.

How Bucher operated the Pueblo was determined by a division of authority between himself and Harris. While Bucher had complete military command and ultimate responsibility of the ship, he has told the court that the commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet "designated that the operational and management control of the research spaces working areas for intelligence be under the command and jurisdiction of Lt. Harris . . .

"He did not directly report to me."

SHIP DEPARTMENT

It wasn't always that way, Bucher said. "While back in Washington, initially being briefed for my mission on this ship, I was told . . . That the research detachment would be in fact a department on our ship, the same fashion it was being done elsewhere, I went back to Puget Sound to report to my ship with the idea that the research detachment would be a department.

"I later found out that the people from CINCPACFLT (commander in chief of the Pacific fleet) — that they thought that it would be much better in fact if the detachment would remain a detachment instead of a department.

"I wanted them a department so I would have positive control over them in all areas, not only in military but in administrative as well."

On occasion, Bucher said, the question of his authority over Harris' staff became "a very tender area and CINCPACFLT representatives for the research department on occasion made it known to me those people were not working for me."

A BUS DRIVER?

If anything, Bucher left the impression he was working for them—much like a bus driver assigned to take sightseers where they want to go.

"May I say," Bucher told the court, "that my job as commanding officer of that ship was to place that ship in the most effective and useful location in order that we could collect the maximum of intelligence."

ART REVIEW

Enthusiastic Use Of Color And Ideas

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Margaret Smith's oils and Jesse Allen's prints are featured through Feb. 8 at Gallery III, 69 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera, in a show marked by an enthusiastic use of color and ideas.

Mrs. Smith's forte is color and she uses it voluptuously. She builds orange, pink, red, grass green, yellow, lavender and touches of blue in progressions of washes, thick strokes, spongy imprints and lines. While her delicate use of detail gives textures that are sensed more often than seen.

Although abstract in content, the impression might be one of an evening landscape brushed with lavender mist and a soft pink-yellow glow. Or it might more often be one of a city-scape burned gold and pulsing in the sun.

Sometimes this larger impression, the painting seen as a whole, isn't very strong. The component pieces are almost always mouthwateringly lovely and should Mrs. Smith's overall themes work to excite the imagination equally, the result could be magic.

Although born in Niorobi, Allen doesn't consider his jungle landscapes, African-inspired but rather to have sprung from his imagination. That fact is never really in question. For while looking like jungles, the air in them is more like an upended, line-swirled sea. Circles that resemble halved fruit float by and minutely detailed foliage and fantastic looking birds and animals twist through the rest, crowding every inch with fanciful imagery.

It's a very inventive place, drawn in happy colors. It is also a rather nice place to be, as Mrs. Smith's is too, when you want to exercise your own imagination.

Murphy Still Shuns Poole For Judicial Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., says he is about ready to propose nominees for three federal judgeships in California — and Cecil Poole will not be one of them.

Poole, Negro U.S. Attorney for the Northern California district in San Francisco, was nominated twice by former President Johnson to be a federal district judge in San Francisco. His name was withdrawn, along with four others Johnson judgeship nominees, by President Nixon.

Murphy continues to brand as utterly false charges that he personally blocked Poole's confirmation by the Senate when it was first submitted to the Senate last May.

"I never objected to Poole," Murphy said in an interview.

He said he did not, within the first week, return to the Senate Judiciary Committee the "blue form" on which the committee notifies senators of nominations for appointments within their states and solicits their opinions. The form, he noted, says on its face that if it is not returned within seven days it will be assumed there is no objection to the nomination.

Later, he said, he returned the form with the notation that he had received constituent objections to Poole. Some of them, he said then, related to Poole's release of five Oakland draft demonstrators arrested in December 1967 by U.S. marshals.

Murphy said Johnson's renomination of Poole Jan. 10, 10 days before he left office, was "typical Johnson." By that time, Murphy said he had announced publicly that he would oppose any eleventh hour Johnson nominations, in the belief that the appointments should be left to the new administration.

President Nixon has said that he acted on the precedent of the incoming Eisenhower administration in 1953 in withdrawing nominations of the outgoing administration. He said he already had decided that some of the names withdrawn would be resubmitted.

Murphy made it clear that if Poole is one of them, it will not be with his blessing.

Murphy said he had not yet considered candidates for replacement of U.S. attorneys in the four California federal court districts, all of whom are subject to removal at the discretion of the President.

One of the U.S. Attorneys, holdovers from the Johnson administration is Poole, who draws $28,000 a year under a theoretical four-year appointment expiring June 8, 1970.

Pacific Oil Slick Poses New Threat

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Beaches, wildlife and fish were threatened today as oil bubbled forth from a leaking ocean-floor well at a rate of 21,000 gallons a day.

The black slick covered 200 square miles of Pacific Ocean, as pilots prepared chemical air drops to disperse the oil and underwater crews worked to seal the leak.

A team of experts was dispatched from Washington, D.C., by Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, and Gov. Ronald Reagan told of the threat of "major pollution to our coast."

"It is imperative that everything be done that can be done," said Hickel. He is considering tighter regulations on offshore drilling, he said, as a result.

The undersea well being drilled five and a half miles offshore by Union Oil Co. of California blew out Tuesday.

With the migration of gray whales at its height, state Fish and Game officials expressed fear for safety of the mammals which must come to the surface to breathe. Their route was through the oil slick.

Many birds were struggling on the beaches, their feathers sticky with oil. State marine biologists said chemicals used to disperse the slick may harm bottom-dwelling fish and plankton.

Clear Lake in Lake County Calif., has 100 miles of shoreline.

FAMILY

"The Bible" — Strikingly filmed stories from Genesis.

"Camelot" — Humor and depth make this lavish screen version of Broadway musical impressive. Superb songs and music. Love affair delicately portrayed.

"Dr. Dolittle" — A beguiling excursion into a delectable world of fantasy. A Victorian physician communicates better with the animals than with people.

"One Million Years B.C." — A Stone Age story of two cultures, complete with dinosaurs and earthquakes.

"Yellow Submarine" — Sparkling animated cartoon featuring special humor and music of the Beatles will appeal to thise interested in new techniques of cartooning.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Bullitt" — Melodrama involves gangsters, police and an ambitious politician. Violence goes all out in blood and gore for its shock effect.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought-provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"The Fixer" — Powerful, provocative film about a Jew in Czarist Russia who endures inhuman torture as he refuses to confess to a murder he did not commit.

"Heart Is A Lonely Hunter"— A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

BORDERLINE

"Cool Hand Luke" — A brutal downbeat story about a nonconformist prisoner in a Southern road construction prison camp. Paul Newman is excellent in the title role . . . depressing.

ADULTS ONLY

"Faces" — Two middle-aged people find their marriage empty and seek satisfaction elsewhere. Dialogue is pretentious and there is much profanity and sex.

Adoption Of Constitution By Students

Students at San Marin High School in Novato have adopted a constitution by more than 75 per cent favorable vote, Donald Nicholas, students activities director announced today .

The vote was 409 for the constitution and 96 against, he said. There were 36 invalid ballots and 37 students absent on Wednesday when the voting was done, Nicholas reported. The tabulation of the votes was not completed until yesterday afternoon, he said. A two-thirds favorable vote was needed to ratify the constitution, he said.

The school held elections in October for president, which Ken Gnoss won, and vice president, which Peter Sorensen won.

Representatives of the two school parties, the Student Involvement Party and the Student Liberal Party, have been working on the constitution since then, Nicholas said.

The date for election of secretary, treasurer and class officers will be announced later, Nicholas said.

The new constitution names the students association "The United Students of San Marin High School."

The school mascott will be the mustang and the school colors forest green and gold.

The student legislature will be called the Representative Assembly to consist of the officers, class presidents and representatives at large from each of the classes. It will meet once every school week at a time and place to be set by the assembly. A quorum of the assembly will be three-fourths of the members.

Class officers will meet at least once each month at a time and place to be announced 24 hours ahead of the meeting.

A special election may be called by a petition signed by one-third of the students. An officer my be recalled by two-thirds vote of the students.

The San Marin High constitution does not have one clause which is in the Novato High School constitution, namely that candidates for offices must pass a written examination on the duties of that office.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Rubini's Anniversary Guests May Have Been Caught On Film

If you were present at the 10th anniversary party of Rubini's in Fairfax on either Dec. 10 or 11, the chances are that your visit was recorded on film.

I do know that co-owner and chef Gordon Jones was busy photographing as many people as he could in the lounge and dining room both evenings. Colored prints are now compiled in a special album. Ask at the bar to see them, if you remember a flashbulb exploding in your face at the party.

Gordon has recently prepared a new dish for his dinner menu called "Chicken Ruby." The foul is sauted in a sauce of ginger, orange juice, grated orange peel and wine and sprinkled with slivers of toasted almonds. Try it. The sauce is tantalizing.

It's rather a strange thing that during some of Marin's rainiest evenings Rubini's is most active. It's always been this way since it opened and I have never been able to determine exactly why. Almost any place is a good port in a storm, but Rubini's must evoke a particularly attractive image of intimacy, comfort and good food to bring people out of their homes. These qualities seem to be emphasized when looking out of the dining room windows at the glistening trees and sometimes turbulent creek below.

If you don't mind waiting for a table on weekends, there's happy listening in the lounge to Lowell Hawk's piano entertainment, but a reservation is still a good idea.

MARIN COUNTY'S newest restaurant, the Hyatt Coffee Shoppe, opened last week at 71 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera and has been playing to a packed house consistently since then.

Located at the junction of Casa Buena and Tamalpais Drive in a newly built structure of A-frame and field stone design, the Hyatt House is open 24 hours a day, serving breakfast, lunch and dinner. There are both counter and table service and plenty of offstreet parking.

Prices are in the moderate range. Dinner menu includes such entrees as beef brochettes, steak sandwiches, cheddar and top sirloin steaks, beef gentilhomme, fried chicken, spaghetti and meat balls and a number of seafoods.

Another Hyatt Coffee Shoppe will open in Novato during the summer.

FOOD SERVICE now is offered seven nights a week at Thirty-Nine Main in Tiburon from 6 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., and brunch Saturdays and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 1:30 a.m.

A la carte dinner specials include lobster, steaks, abalone, prawns and double lamb chops. Piano entertainment continues Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights through the winter season and there is Dixieland music on Sundays from 3 to 8 p.m.

One of the popular restaurants in Sonoma County's Valley of the Moon that remains open every day of the year is London Lodge, at the entrance of the Jack London State Park in Glen Ellen.

Until it was purchased about two years ago by William and Marie Colling, this restaurant was known for many years as Chef Cardini's. The Collings have continued its fine tradition of good food.

Dining room windows overlook Sonoma Creek. There is lunch and dinner service here Mondays through Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. On Sundays there's a brunch and dinner schedule from 11 to 10. If you should go there on a Friday or Saturday night, Eunice Jones is featured at the organ bar in the lounge, and there's a dance floor.

During the summer months this porgram is expanded to include Sundays. That is when the outside patio is favored by diners. And if the air should get a slight chill there are outdoor heaters to bring the temperature up a few degrees to comfort.

London Lodge specialties include sweetbreads sauted and served en casserole, beef stroganoff and "daily inspirations." There are also an extensive char-broiler carte of steaks and brochettes and a number of seafood, chicken and veal dishes. Dinners are from $2.95 to $6.50. As you might expect at this location, there is a fine selection of regional and other California wines.

IT'S IN MY MIND that Sonoma Joe's at the north edge of Petaluma city limits is misnamed. I have a hunch, too, that the same thought is in the minds of owners Mel and Louise Montero, for it is often called Casa Montero Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. I go for that. The decor is anything but what is usually associated with a Joe's type of restaurant.

Facing the 101 Highway, but entered from the Old Redwood Highway which leads to Penngrove, Joe's (or Casa Montero) was designed on a Granada theme carried out with beautiful imported Spanish wall lanterns and chandeliers, heavy furnishings and decor representing the early Spanish influence in California. There is no counter or backdrop of kitchen activity such as is generally found at a Joe's restaurant.

Mel is of Spanish heritage. His grandfather was a landowner in Malaga, Spain. His parents emigrated first to the Hawaiian Islands at the turn of the century, then settled in California to raise their family. Mel and his wife have been in the restaurant business in the Petaluma area for many years.

Complete dinners ($3.25 to $6.50) include steaks, prime rib of beef, chicken served several ways, brochettes, lamb chops, veal scaloppini and parmigiana, a number of seafood entrees and a Spanish paella dinner for two at $3.95 each. Paella, as you may know, varies according to the foods that are available in a given area. This one includes chicken, pork, chorizo, clams, lobster, shrimp, peas, tomatoes, pimento, rice and special herbs. With the dinner are also served a gazpacho cold soup, dessert (creme brulee) and coffee.

But for those who may have been lured here by the sign Sonoma Joe's, there is a traditional Joe's Special: Ground beef, eggs, spinach and fresh mushrooms.

Popular at noon is a buffet luncheon. A la carte entrees, sandwiches and salads are served.

EIGHT MARIN RESTAURANTS are now participating in a "Bon Apetit Marin" dinner coupon book of the Planned Parenthood Auxiliary of Marin. Proceeds go to aid the clinic at 603 D Street, San Rafael.

Either a two-for-one arrangement or a substantial discount is provided by each restaurant. Participants are the Dock, Sam's and Windjammer in Tiburon; Cafe Bon Vin in San Anselmo; La Casa Restaurant, Maria's Pueblo and Taverna Yiasou in San Rafael and the historic Marshall Hotel out at the coast. Books may be secured through Mrs. Richard A. Wilson, 40 Wellington Avenue, Ross.

FOR THOSE who care to stretch out further, the San Francisco Diners Club now has an office at 220 Albert Building, San Rafael and is promoting a book of 40 restaurants in San Francisco, East Bay, Peninsula and Marin. Locally, Sam's, The Dock, Windjammer, Oak Tree Inn and Rubini's are participating. Others may be added later.

Some coupons are two-for-one, some are for discounts. A few are good for visits once each month for a year. If you have extra guests, contact the San Rafael office and you can pick up extra coupons without additional charge.

THIS SUNDAY will see the first of Cafe Bon Vin's weekly champagne brunches served on that day from noon to 3 p.m.

Probably the most fascinating dish will be one popular in Paris and New Orleans. It is "Eggs Bonnet Carre," which translates into "doctor's cap." Two eggs are poached in champagne, served in a pastry shell and covered with a Beaujolais sauce containing chicken livers.

Brunch at $3.95 also includes a glass of champagne, fruit, hot rolls, sweet butter and coffee, and possibly a second glass of bubbly.

Next Wednesday night's provincial dinner features "potee Normand" — beef, pork, chicken sausage and vegetables simmered for hours and served with several interesting sauces for dipping.

Food Stamp Plan To Be Outlined

Meetings to familiarize grocers with the Food Stamp program, scheduled to open in Marin County March 3, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 10 and 11 at the Civic Center by the federal Department of Agriculture.

Wilmer Holtzman, director of the program for Marin and Sonoma counties, said only authorized grocers can accept the food coupons. Authorizations can be completed at the meetings, he added.

Holtzman said grocers who wish to participate should complete applications mailed earlier and bring them to the meeting.

Injured In Skid

Jeffery H. Forwood, 37, of San Francisco, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a head cut after a car driven by his wife, Ann D. Forwood, 31, skidded in heavy rain and hit the side rails of the San Rafael viaduct on Highway 101 at 8:10 p.m. Wednesday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Santa Rosa Teen Parley Planned

Sponsored by the Santa Rosa Teen Association and the Sonoma County Youth Association, speakers and discussions are planned for the day with a rock band dance in the evening ending at 10:30 p.m.

The youth groups have asked the Sonoma County Supervisors and Santa Rosa City Council to assist in paying the $225 costs to rent the building. The supervisors have agreed to contribute one-third of the costs if the city council does likewise.

The supervisors have proclaimed the day as "Youth Action Day."

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

NORMANDY INVASION of SAN ANSELMO

Four weeks and already a tradition! Wednesday is "Provincial Night" at Café Bon Vin. (And reservations are a "must.")

Potée Normande comes to the table at eight next Wednesday (February 5) — and what a gastronomic triumph it is. Beef, pork, chicken, sausage, carrots, onions, parsnips, celery, leeks, herbs and spices -- plus hours and hours of simmering — plus an array of sauces to dip juicy meat chunks into. Food like this more than makes up for the fact that they drink very little wine in Normandy (cider's their bag) — but we shall! All you want of a full rich French Colombard is served with all you want of the Potée (herb breads, salad, dessert, coffee, too!) $5

Wine Tasting? Of course! At 6:30 a number of rare, distinctive, unusual wines selected by Fred Cherry will be generously distributed for sampling. Knowledgeable wine talk, too, if you wish. And Rouge et Noir cheese and bread between sips. $2

Other Nights . . . Things are getting full of unsinful temptation at Café Bon Vin. Brunch starts for the first time this Sunday at noon — with buncheon dishes new to California. For instance:
Eggs Bonnet Carre (Doctor's Cap) — eggs poached in champagne placed in a light pastry shell, and covered with a sauce of Beaujolais and chicken livers. $3.95
A dozen different dishes like that — and when you've been here 12 times, we'll have another dozen discoveries to justify the calories.

Saturday is always full . . . so come to dinner any other night and we'll make it worth your while with both a before- and an after-dinner drink like none you've ever had. They come with the meal — except Saturdays, when they'll cost you $1.50.

Three dinners served Thursday through Sunday. Champagne Gala; 10 courses, $9.75. Grand Dinner; 6 courses, $5.75. Petit Dinner; 4 courses, $3.75. And wine. Such wine!

Jury Convicts Pair Of 'Blood' Squirting

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A jury before U.S. District Court Judge George B. Harris yesterday convicted two Mountain View women of squirting "blood" — watered-down red poster paint — around a Presidio court-martial room after the conviction of one of the so-called Marin City Nine.

Judge Harris set Feb. 27 for sentencing of Mrs. Sali McAllister, 33, and Charlene Pope, 20.

The women said in court they spilled or squirted the "blood" Oct. 23 because they felt Pvt. Keith C. Mather of San Bruno had been unjustly convicted of desertion.

Mather is one of 27 soldiers charged with mutiny as a result of a sit-down at the Presidio stockade in October to protest stockade conditions and the fatal shooting of a prisoner who tried to escape. The trial of two of the soldiers began at the Presidio yesterday. Mather's trial will be held later.

In another development yesterday, Michael Smith, 27, formerly of Corte Madera and a leader of the 1964 free speech movement at Berkeley, was warned by Presidio officials not to carry out plans to demonstrate at the Presidio trial. Smith is one of seven antiwar dissidents on trial in Oakland on charges of conspiring to plan the 1967 demonstrations at the Oakland Induction Center.

From 1799 through 1965, the United States mined 307,182,000 ounces of gold, the National Geographic Society says. At the current price of $35 an ounce, this would be worth $10,751,370,000.

Boy Scouts Set Council Takeover

The Rohnert Park City Council session will take on a youthful appearance Monday at 7 p.m. when two Boy Scout troops take over for a mock meeting.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said members of Troops 23 and 81 will assume council and city staff positions for the evening and perhaps enact several mock ordinances. The youngsters will spend Tuesday with city officials to gain insight to the operations of city government.

The regular council will establish a new salary for Callinan and also consider appointments to the recreation commission and cultural arts commission.

Snow Fun Is No Fun For School Aide

Answer: When it's a tempest in a teapot.

John G. Donovan, administrative assistant at San Rafael High School reports being flunked in that test yesterday by parents who phoned to complain he had spoiled a lot of good, clean fun by halting a snowball fight by students who had hauled onto campus a truckload of snow gathered the night before on Mount Tamalpais.

Good, clean fun? Not by a long shot, Donovan today told the Independent-Journal, whose page one story about the special delivery triggered the phone calls. The stuff, he said was too dirty for that.

In fact, Donovan said, it wasn't even snow any more. It was rained on in the night, partly frozen and, when balled, packed into something dangerously close to chunks of ice.

As to parental complaints of denying youngsters the chance to see something rare and strange as snow in Marin, Donovan replied that seniors Greg Ghilotti and Mark Walker (importers of the gelid substance) must have misunderstood him if they thought he had ordered the stuff off campus forthwith. To the contrary, Donovan said, he had suggested it be delivered to the nursery school on the campus for the amazement and amusement of the children there.

Question: When is an answer not an answer?

Answer: Only when nobody bothers to listen.

Anyone want to take that test?

College Profs, Board Split On Hiring Chief

Filling the post of district superintendent, vacant since the resignation of William K. Ramstad last April, is slated to be discussed by the Marin Junior College District trustees Thursday.

At a workshop meeting with the Academic Senate last night, Board President Theodore C. Wellman pushed for early hiring of a superintendent.

Faculty members, citing the district's financial bind, favored a later hiring, possibly July, 1970.

Michael Hansen, a member of the senate, said, "We're not opposed to the position of district superintendent, but it's a matter of priorities."

Last April the College of Marin faculty voted to ask for Ramstad's resignation after the trustees named him district superintendent.

Wellman said a superintendent is needed to keep the district moving toward its goal to establish a north campus in Novato and meeting increasing enrollment at the Kentfield campus.

Wellman said the board will discuss whether to start recruiting at Thursday's meeting and should reach a decision at its Feb. 20 meeting.

With operating the College of Marin and planning for a north campus, "There's just too much going on for one person to do," said Trustee Donald K. Felt.

Acting President Louis H. Herkenhoff, agreeing that trying to cope with both jobs was beyond the scope of one man, contended that in the district, "there is case after case of one man doing two jobs" because of fiscal limitations.

Since it was a workshop session, there was no board action. The board will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Choral Room, Fine Arts Building, for a special session on a proposed 77-cent increase in override taxes to be voted upon April 15. The next regular session will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Choral Room.

Support Is Given Gas Tax Stand

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — The dispute between the Reagan administration and several influential Democratic senators over a proposal to boost the gasoline tax one cent to repair storm-damaged roads yesterday was joined by Gordon C. Luce, state secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency.

Luce, speaking before the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, said he supported Gov. Ronald Reagan's flat opposition to any increase, even temporary, in the gas tax. Reagan, after inspecting flood damage Tuesday, said a hike was unnecessary.

Luce said recent boosts in federal funds for highways in California and economies in operating state agencies made an increase in the tax unnecessary now.

But he did not rule out a future need to increase the state excise tax, now seven cents per gallon. The present price per gallon also includes four cents federal tax.

Luce said he have been meeting with federal aid to highway construction. Until the amount of federal aid for future highways is decided, said Luce, "I cannot recommend a tax increase."

Senate Transportation Committee chairman Alan Short, D-Stockton, and Senate Finance Committee chairman Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, both favor a one-cent increase, Collier said it should be permanent.

While supervising construction of the University of Virginia, Thomas Jefferson surveyed the site with pegs and twine, calculated the brick and lumber needed, hired bricklayers and carpenters and sent a scholar to Britain to recruit professors.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

One record of a community's history can be found in its street names. Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly proves this is true tomorrow with a story tracing the origins of some of San Rafael's city street names. It is the story of how one Marin community has paid tribute to its pioneers and preserved the memory of its landmarks by designating streets in their honor. Perhaps the street you live on is among them.

Freelance writer and photographer Gil Pearson has produced another of his entertaining features for tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement. This time he writes about Bernie Wills of Tiburon, a skilled craftsman who has developed the unusual business of converting retired ship's furniture into serviceable and handsome furniture and furnishings for the home. Photos by Pearson and Diane Beeston demonstrate his creative results.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1943 the Soviet Union announced the virtual annihilation of 330,000 Nazi troops at Stalingrad, a turning point of World War II.

In 1953 more than 2,000 persons lost their lives when North Sea storms flooded Holland.

In 1958 the United States launched its first satellite, Explorer I into orbit.

In 1968 North Vietnamese Communist guerrillas raided the U.S. embassy in Saigon, opening the Viet Cong's New Year offensive.

A thought for the day: French scientist Blaise Pascal said, "Between us and hell or heaven there is nothing but life, which of all things is the frailest."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Slam Can Be Reached Easily After Opening Two Club Bid

If you adopt the all-purpose forcing opening bid of two clubs you must remember that the negative response is two diamonds. A response of two no-trump shows a hand of some real merit, probably including two kings among other values (since otherwise you would prefer to let your partner play the hand at no-trump).

You hold:
♠ Q 9 4 3
♥ 9 8 7
♦ 7 2
♣ 10 8 7 6

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two no-trump, a second negative response.

If partner had bid two spades you would have raised to three spades, but you have no good reason to raise the hearts so promptly.

PLAN UPSET

In today's hand North opens with two clubs, planning to bid two no-trump at his next turn. This plan is upset when South bids two no-trump.

In many expert partnerships, North would simply bid three no-trump, announcing that he had been planning to bid two no-trump at his second turn. North's bid would show 23 or 24 points and would leave the next move to South. An expert South would promptly jump to six no-trump, ending the auction.

This restrained style would not suit most partnerships, since the average South cannot see a jump to six no-trump on 10 points; and the average North wants to do the driving with his powerful hand. If the partners have not discussed the matter, North should use the Blackwood Convention to check on South's aces and kings.

POSTPONES FINESSE

South needs three club tricks to make the slam, and should develop the third trick by a postponed finesse. Declarer takes the king and then the ace of clubs. When the queen happens to fall, South has no further problems.

If the queen of clubs didn't drop, South planned to lead a third club toward dummy's J-5. This line of play would develop a third club trick whenever West has the queen, whenever the six missing clubs break 3-3, or whenever either opponent has the singleton or doubleton queen.

NO REAL PLAY

An ordinary finesse with the jack of clubs would lose to the queen, and then South would have no real play for his 12th trick.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with two clubs, you respond two diamonds (weakness), and partner bids two hearts.

Schools' Role In Curbing Pot-Pushing On Campus

Should schools automatically expel students caught using drugs on or off campus?

Some Novato parents, at a meeting this week, contended they should. The demand came at the same meeting at which Police Chief Robert di Grazia reported disgust by his officers who contend that when they make marijuana arrests of juveniles, "they beat us back to Novato" from the county jail booking.

Not only do the young pushers or users of the weed "beat the cops back to Novato," but they are back in school next day, according to the parents.

Principal Stanley Onderdonk of Novato High School agreed this might be so. "We do not have a policy of automatic expulsion," he said. Several parents then wanted to know, "Why?"

Paul Mobley, an assistant superintendent, gave an explanation of sorts. It is often made a condition of probation that the offender attend school, he said.

THERE IS A FLAW in this explanation, however.

The youth booked for marijuana—or any other offense — has not yet gone through a court process and been either granted or denied probation.

What happens is that he is turned over to the probation department at the county jail. The probation officer can then either take him to juvenile hall or return him home. He does not have to remain in jail until admitted to bail, as is generally the case with adult offenders.

If he is returned home, he may be back in school next day. If he then is eventually admitted to probation, there is no evidence to his fellow students that he has been punished at all. Indeed, he may become somewhat of a campus hero for his brush with the law. And he may be back selling or using "pot" quite promptly — as has been shown by re-arrests of youths on probation on several occasions.

UNTIL YEAR before last, school officials were in somewhat of a dilemma in this situation. Although one section of the Education Code gave them the right to expel students, another required them to provide schooling until the age of 18 for all.

A state law which became effective in November, 1967, however, removed the dilemma as far as drug use is concerned. It provides:

"The governing board of any school district may suspend or expel . . . a pupil whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the board or the superintendent . . . that the pupil has . . . used, sold or been in possession of narcotic or other hallucinogenic drugs or substances."

This permits an automatic expulsion policy without waiting for court determination of the case.

AS FOR the requirement that school be provided for all to the age of 18, there is a school at Marin County Juvenile Hall for just that purpose.

This is not to suggest that the young pot-smoker would be better off at the juvenile hall school. But his fellow students at the public high school would be better off if he were removed from among them. That is what the law is all about: protection of society.

Talk Stations

Amidst the good music radio stations, the bad music stations, the all news stations, the foreign-language stations and the this-and-that stations, has arisen that pernicious boon to insonmiacs, the all-night talk station.

If your nights are not already sleepless, listening to one of these glib, gabby, insulting fellows being assaulted by illogical extremists of every point of view is guaranteed to make you so. Yet, they are fascinating. They grab you and hold you. But like too much highly seasoned food, they can be a bit nauseating.

If you ever feel complacent about the future of our country (there still may be a few among us), you have only to turn the dial to get the radical view of your choice.

THE DRUMMONDS

Agnew Getting Cram Course In Duties Of The Presidency

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The most significant action of the first 10 days of the new administration is this:

Richard Nixon is giving Vice President Spiro Agnew a cram course in how to be President.

He is making Agnew a participant in virtually every policy decision the President is taking.

The purpose: to give Agnew as quickly as possible and as fully as possible the training and knowledge to serve as President if he has to.

THAT THIS contingency may be improbable is not causing Mr. Nixon to delay in ordering the wide-ranging apprenticeship which any Vice President needs and often does not get.

1. Agnew is being kept almost continuously at the center of policy formulation, domestic and foreign.

2. Mr. Nixon is making Agnew an active, participating member of three major instruments of the presidency — the National Security Council, the cabinet and the Urban Affairs Council of which he is chairman.

3. Agnew will preside at high-level White House meetings, including the NSC and the cabinet, when the President is unable to attend. Mr. Nixon has instructed cabinet members that he doesn't want them sending deputies just because the vice president is presiding.

4. Agnew will run an arm of the presidency designed to achieve a major administration goal of much closer relations between Washington and state and local government. Every governor and mayor will look to Agnew as the door to federal agencies and to the White House.

MR. NIXON'S objective is evident. It is to involve Agnew with every crucial function of the presidency so that if he ever has to become acting President he wi'l be intimately familiar with the operations and policies of the White House.

Small World

Snowball Time

There is no need to be delicate about why the President is bringing Agnew so promptly and so deeply into the center of things. They both know that many people have doubts as to whether Gov. Agnew was qualified to meet Nixon's first requirement for a running-mate — that he be fully capable to serve as President if the need arose.

The vice president knows that how speedily and how fully he dispels these doubts is now up to him. He accepts his new opportunities with zest and with confidence tempered somewhat by what happened during the campaign. He isn't stepping back one bit from the assignments Mr. Nixon is giving him.

When it was announced that the vice president would use the White House staff for many of his duties, the easy interpretation was that Agnew was going to be kept under lock and key — or allowed to operate only at the other end of a White House leash.

Agnew never did believe this and now he knows that it is not the way it is going to be.

WHEN HARRY TRUMAN was F.D.R.'s vice president, he was never allowed to know anything. Under Mr. Nixon, the vice president is being allowed to know and to be in the midst of just about everything.

This means that Spiro Agnew will be making his own reputation by his own conduct in office during the coming months.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Case Of Penury Or Inefficiency

Will somebody tell me if another of Mr. Reagan's economies is to limit printing expense in the Motor Vehicle Department? Months ago I went with a friend to the department to get a copy of the motor vehicle code. The department was "out." They offered her a copy to "look over" right there, when she wanted to renew her license!

Two weeks ago I went to the department to get a copy of the code again. They were "out." Just now I called the department. They are "out."

What kind of a run-around is this? I was told the laws had been revised. Now, when a license has to be renewed, I can't get a copy of the laws. Yet, if a member of the Highway Patrol stops me, for a violation, he won't wait for the state presses to roll before he issues the ticket.

What's In News Disturbs Reader

Frankly I am concerned about what the Independent-Journal deems newsworthy. All too frequently there are "news items" on people taking overdoses of drugs and having nervous breakdowns. Today the "newsy" item concerned an 18-year-old who is trying to kick the heroin habit and admitted several burglaries—undoubtedly this was not an easy thing for him to have the courage to admit.

I am curious to know what type of public service you think this type of reporting serves.

Students Say What Parents Should

Re item "Disciplinary Policy Called No Solution," I-J, Jan. 22. My warm thanks to student John Leonard, spokesman for the Tamalpais High School, and the balance of the students on the discipline study committee, for saying what the parents should have said several years ago.

It is my firm belief that the parents will now get out and support this group of young adults in their attempts to arrive at workable solutions to the many problems. The adults have been too long silent.

The article states that Redwood Principal Donald Kreps suggested that teachers get more involved in solving discipline problems instead of passing them on to the deans. Fine and good. However weak administrators impoverish classroom control and until the teachers are firmly backed the situation will only deteriorate further.

Students Must Defend Own Rights

Miss Karen Kerfoot issues a most eloquent appeal ("Readers Say," Jan. 27) in her cry for public support in the battle of responsible citizens against the hoodlums and outlaws at San Francisco State. That appeal should be listened to and heeded by those who have been sitting on the sidelines.

People old enough to be Miss Kerfoot's parents can well remember the horror that was loosed upon the world by Hitler and his barbarians. Much of the blame does go to those who simply sat by or even attempted to use reasonable tactics when the world was about to go up in flames.

Like today's demagogues, Hitler was a cunning and treacherous barbarian who, to many, spoke convincingly of the wrongs to the German people he had set out to right. He could have been stopped at the beginning if only a few of his fellow Germans had stood up and subdued him and his bullies, but we know what happened.

One thing that Miss Kerfoot ignores, however, is that she and her fellow students are part of "The People" and she underestimates their power. If like minded students are such a substantial majority, why is it that they cannot help to curb their own little Hitlers and storm troopers? . . .

As it is now, no one knows how the S. F. State students stand. If they stood up for their rights, those on the sidelines would join them.

Striking Teachers And Black Rage

As a sympathetic supporter of striking teachers at S.F. State and other state campuses, I find the significance of the term "Black Rage," used by Grier and Cobbs for the title of their excellent book, takes on a new breadth of meaning. What these two black psychiatrists have helped me realize is the extent to which status quo America uses the questioning cry, "Why should a minority be allowed to decide for the majority" to avoid and discredit just demands of minority groups, including teachers, but especially by racial and ethnic minorities.

Anyone who attended the recent Mill Valley Forum on "The Crisis on the State Campuses" with any degree of openness could not help being aware that the striking teachers' demands are indeed reasonable and legitimate and in the highest interest of a S.F. State that will fairly serve all of its students.

Senators Raise Issue Of Spy Ships Vs. Policy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — While Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher and his crewmen have been telling their stories to a court of inquiry, senators and congressmen have been raising questions which go beyond the compass of the Navy's Pueblo inquiry.

Central to many of the congressional queries, which have been swamping Navy liaison officers, are two questions: Who was finally responsible for the spy mission which saw the Pueblo steam unprotected into unfriendly waters? Was the electronic intelligence data to be obtained worth the clear risks involved?

Questions of this sort have been fostered by a memorandum, circulated by the staff, to members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Some of the members, including chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., have long been critical of the impact of intelligence operations on U.S. policy.

THE MEMO contains some Pentagon data, and it is classified "secret." It can be reported quite safely, however, that the committee staff raises the question of how the government exercised command and control over the Pueblo's mission.

The memo presents the Pueblo's seizure as the most recent in a series of disastrous incidents in which intelligence operations caused great embarrassment to the United States. Listed as forerunners to the Pueblo incident are Russia's downing of the U/2 spy plane in 1960, the 1964 attack on U.S. destroyers in Tonkin Gulf, and the attack by Israeli forces on the spy ship Liberty, in 1967.

The memo questions whether the aims of these missions had been coordinated with the broader interests of U.S. policy. It also raises the question of what echelon of government officials made command decisions in connection with all the ill-fated operations.

Stressed by the memo is the confusion with which top government officials reacted when the missions went sour. (It is reported, for example, that former Sec. of State Dean Rusk blamed the Arabs in the immediate aftermath of the Liberty attack, while former Defense Sec. Robert S. McNamara blamed the Russians.)

WHATEVER the fruits of a successful Pueblo mission might have been, all evidence indicates that the mission was approved, in concept at least, at a high government level.

In testimony last year, before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Secretary McNamara called the Pueblo's assignment "justified" even in hindsight. McNamara said that, while the mission was first proposed by field-level commanders, it was approved by their superiors and reviewed at the upper echelons of government.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the House military appropriations subcommittee that the top-level government review included the Joint Chiefs.

Now it is being reliably reported here that the Pueblo's mission was, in fact, reviewed by the National Security Council.

Even is such was the case, however, some of the questions posed at the capitol will need a more detailed answer

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Political Takeover Won't Solve Problems Of State Boards

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Behind the controversy over administration of the Professional and Vocational Standards Department are some cold economic and political facts.

This department consists of some 40 regulatory agencies, each holding power over the livelihoods of more than a million licensees and their employees.

Persons on the boards for the most part are drawn from the professions they regulate, and receive no pay for their time.

BY AND LARGE, these boards have conducted themselves well and at no expense to the general public, as license fees pay for enforcement of laws regulating their professions.

Because there have been some cases where a board has lost sight of its public purpose and has become sort of a protective society for the profession it regulates, there have been demands for changes and even abolition of certain boards. One change resulted in placement of a "public member" on each board, "public" in this case being a person outside of the profession governed.

If the boards functioned properly, all members would be placing the public's interest first. Unfortunately, ill-advised actions of a few brought about the change. And the change itself was a compromise, since one "public member" would be ineffective in stopping a determined board from ignoring the public interest. To some, the answer is more "public members," while others would have all members remote from the profession regulated and still others would eliminate the boards.

Actually, there is no simple solution. A judicious approach is needed in making changes, and precipitant alterations avoided.

BUT DIRECTOR Henry M. Shine Jr. has stirred up a storm by attempting to impose his ideas on the boards. Having arrived in California as a paid political worker for the Reagan campaign, he is without background in the field he is attempting to reorganize.

He seeks to have himself made a member of each board, take complete charge of all employees, and oust experienced, longtime career employees in favor of political appointments. And he seeks to do this by circumventing the regular legislative committees and putting changes through under a master reorganization plan.

Board members, more than 200 all appointed by the governor, are apt to view this as a grab for personal power on the part of Shine. Some are wondering if he has political ambitions for himself.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

IN THE DINING ROOM of a swank Chicago hotel, a clumsy waiter spilled a cup of hot coffee down the back of a patroness. She jumped to her feet with a shriek of pain and indignation, wiggling as the coffee pursued its downward course. A man, not too sober, at a table nearby summoned his own waiter immediately. "I don't know what that lady's drinking," he told the waiter, "but I want two of them immediately."

"I HAD THE strangest dream last night," a patient confided to his analyst. "I dreamed that you were my mother!" "Your mother?" echoed the analyst, his interest instantly aroused. "I wonder what provoked a dream like that. Tell me the details." "Well," said the patient, "I dreamed that I woke up at my regular hour in the morning, and came to you for my regular breakfast of three hamburgers and an ice cream soda" "Ridiculous," interrupted the analyst. "What kind of a breakfast is that for a healthy young man?"

What Should Human Rights Miniboards Do–Find Problems?

Although response to the Marin County Human Rights Commission's request for community miniboards to aid in the human rights problem has been prompt and enthusiastic, there seems to be some confusion as to what the miniboard is really all about.

Discussion by the Tiburon City Council a few weeks ago pointed up the need for clarification of such a board's duties before it is set to work.

In a very thorough report, Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood noted that minboards were being established to provide an "input system" to inform the human rights commission of problems in various areas, provide a sounding board through which community desires might become known, serve as an investigative body for the city council, and quietely ameliorate matters which might end up as a grievance presented to the county commission.

THEN COUNCILMEN asked the key question: What would the board investigate in Tiburon? Other cities have asked the same question, all saying that "there are no civil rights (or human rights) problems in our town."

"After all, we don't want it investigating things just to keep itself busy even if there isn't a problem," one Tiburon councilman said.

In Belvedere, the council got around the problem by appointing itself as the miniboard. In Sausalito, a board has been appointed without a detailed charge, thus leaving it a great deal of latitude in defining its own functions.

In Mill Valley, a miniboard has been appointed, has organized itself, and has even tackled its first problem, teenagers.

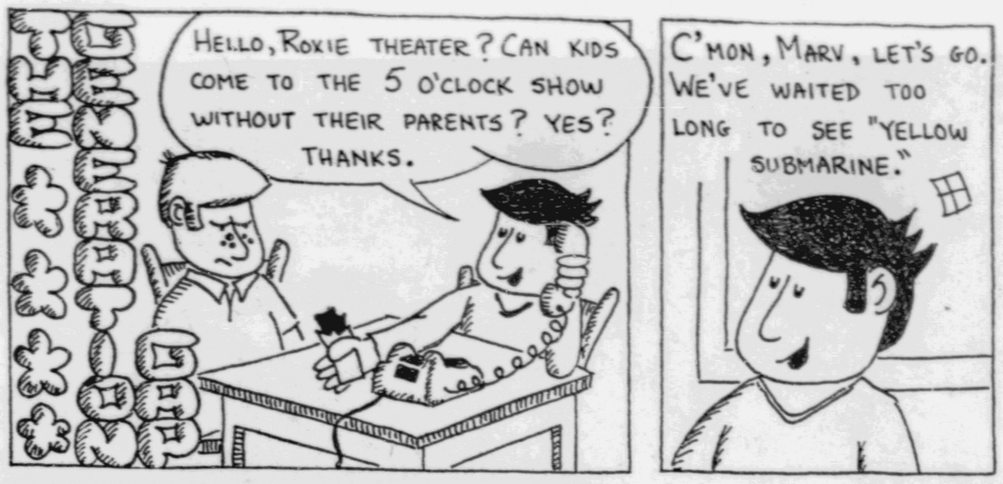
In a letter to Mayor Dean N. Meyer, acting chairman Charles P. Guichard said: "We seem to see our role as one of problem definition, a certain amount of planning, perhaps some development of projects on our own part that we would then recommended to existing city commissions.

"Our role is not so much as problem solving as problem definition. I think we all agree that there are enough agencies in the community already to solve problems, and that the hang-up is that many of them do not see clearly what the problem is."

The Tiburon council has delayed a decision until it can meet with human rights commission representatives and discuss the whole thing.

MEMO from a Marin resident: Speaking of bureaucratic nonsense, most Marin drivers by now have probably played their annual game of musical chairs at the Department of Motor Vehicles in Corte Madera. The office has five windows plainly marked "automobile registration." The unwary customer who tries to register his auto there, however, learns — after a long wait in line — that those windows only handle "applications with problems." People who are simply registering must go around the corner to one of two express lines which are plainly marked "express" with a picture of the registration form.

Things get pretty dull around the DMV office most of the year, and this is simply their way of having a little innocent fun with the customer to break the monotony of the long working day. Hardly any of the customers were laughing the day I was there, but you know what grouches people are about paying taxes.



COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Novatan Questions Transit 'Joint Powers' Conception

A day or so before Christmas I received from a gentleman in Novato a copy of a letter he had written to directors of the Marin County Transit District, dated Dec. 18.

Fusselman

The clear and sensible import of his letter to the district, I believe should be related to you in its entirety. It will take about twice the space available for this column, so I will present it to you in two parts. If you will save this copy after reading, you can then go over the whole context next week. Here it is:

"Gentlemen:

During it's December, 1968 regular meeting, your board voted to enter into negotiations with the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District for the purpose of formulating a 'joint powers agreement.' The action was discussed in some detail both by members of the board and from the floor. The minutes of that meeting do not reflect certain details of this discussion which, I believe, should be recorded in some written form. That is the purpose of this letter.

"The joint powers agreement is to be a vehicle whereby funds of the bridge district are made available for transit purposes. The agreement would permit establishment of transit operations by applying bridge district reserves to the purchase of transit vehicles. Presumably, since operation of this equipemt will require deficit expenses in excess of amounts which can be financed by the voter-approved limited taxing power of the transit district, current and future bridge revenues would also be made available to subsidize transit operations.

"Such action will necessitate continued collection of bridge tolls after outstanding bonds are paid off in 1970. The proposed joint powers agreement would provide a means for those two districts to legally expend large amounts of public funds for capital acquisitions and operating deficits over an unlimited period of time without any further approval by the voters in either district. Such a procedure, although technically legal, violates the normal sequence of events by which most public agencies obtain public support and approval of large scale and long-term financial obligations.

"This normal sequence is for the transit district to return to the voters for a bond authorization (in this case perhaps use of bridge district reserves) to provide funds for acquisition of capital equipment, and return to the legislature for an increase in its present limited power to levy property taxes. Assuming approval in both instances, the district could then proceed to purchase equipment and initiate operations.

"It is especially important for the Marin County Transit District to honor this normal sequence of events in view of the fact that the concept of mass transit had not even been formulated at the time the bridge district was formed and because there still is not a definitive estimate regarding the cost of acquiring and operating a transit system. Since public support is considered a major element in any successful transit operation, it is certainly reasonable to assume that the more prudent approach, obtaining voted approval as an indicator of public support, is the one which should be followed."

Note: The final four paragraphs of his letter are devoted to actual financial and operational experiences of transit operation in the Bay Area. You should know about these. Read them next week.

ABAG Gets Extra Planning Funds

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The federal government has approved an additional $153,062 planning grant to the Association of Bay Area Governments, Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, has reported.

The urban planning assistance grant by the Department of Housing and Urban Development is to help complete ABAG's master plan for the nine-county region, including Marin.

The new grant brought to $355,734 the total HUD has given the association to draw the plan. With local funds, the cost of the plan now stands at $503,601, Mailliard noted.

The grant was under section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954, which pays up to two thirds of the total cost.

Evening College Signups Slated

The first classes to fill are those in data processing, the cultural arts including drama, music, and art, he said. Seven sections in data processing are scheduled: 14 in art and six in drama. Language classes include beginning Russian and French.

More than 2,000 students attend one or more evening credit classes at College of Marin, according to Johnson.

YOUTH LEADER'S VIEW:

Sense Of Humor Needed About Race

By JOAN LISETOR

"I have a sense of humor about the race problems," says Mrs. Otis Gaines. "You really have to."

Collie Gaines is the director of the On-Going Youth Program at the Manzanita Center in Marin City which began in 1967 as a summer youth program. Mrs. Gaines, who took over as the director in the summer of 1968, has expanded it into a continuing program dedicated to the needs of the Marin City children, which include recreational facilities and counseling. Having been reared in a segregated society Mrs. Gaines feels that the black children in Marin City have many more problems to face than she did as a child.

"My background is very different from the young people I am working with," she says. "I came from a medium sized city (Austin, Tex.) and attended segregated schools. In a segregated society you see only blacks, so you never get the feeling that black people don't do anything. In our integrated society it is important that black children see that there are opportunities."

The director believes that using black leaders in the program's activities helps the children to see that blacks can succeed. She hopes that the program will become county-wide since she feels there is a need to reach out to other low income families' youngsters in Marin.

"When the program becomes a county-wide effort, we will use some white volunteers, but I think it is most important that the children see blacks in the leading roles. The next step is for them to see blacks and whites working together."

Field trips are another part of the center's activities that the director sees as very important.

"We recently took 85 children to Santa's Village in Santa Cruz," she explains, "and they are children who probably never would have seen it, since most of their families cannot spare money for this type of luxury. We let the children decide where they want to go, and we have concentrated on some cultural events such as art galleries as well as taking them to places where they can see job opportunities.

"We have taken them roller skating," she adds, "and who knows, maybe there is a future professional skater in the group. These field trips also offer the parents an opportunity to take part in our programs, something we strongly urge."

Collie Gaines came to Marin City in 1960 from Austin to live with an aunt and attend San Francisco State College. She had attended the University of Texas for two years in the early days of integration.

"I just got fed up with Texas. I was displeased with the university and wanted to get away," she says. "For instance I went to enroll in an anthropolgy course and the professor told me, 'You couldn't pass this course; it isn't for Negroes."

She attended San Francisco State for two years and during that time met and married Otis Gaines, a carpenter for the federal government. The couple have two daughters: Kellie, six, and Jon Monique, two, who is nicknamed John John.

Leaving college three units short of graduation, Collie went to work as a counselor at Juvenile Hall. When the county obtained funds for an Unwed Mothers Teen-Age Program, she left Juvenile Hall to direct it.

"I worked with the Tamalpais High School District," she explains. "The girls needed counseling, and we made arrangements for home teachers and worked with the girls encouraging them not to quit school. The program only lasted two years, but it helped a lot of girls and also showed the community that black girls are not the only ones who get pregnant."

Mrs. Gaines also serves on the education committee of the Marin City City Council, both the Redevelopment Agency and the Housing Authority of Marin County and is a member of the board of directors of the Boy's Club. She has a strong feeling that successful black people should not lose their identity.

"It is important to maintain blackness," she feels. "Right now it's 'in' to be black, and there is probably less intermarriage since black has become the 'in' thing. In the early days of civil rights demonstrations there was a great deal of inter-marriage, but I don't feel that there was as much love between those couples as a need for the white person to prove he was liberal.

"Most blacks don't want to be like whites," she says. "They want the opportunity to do what they want and to be able to say 'yes' or 'no.' People should be judged as individuals, not as a group."

Collie laughs about some of the things she did as a child, living in a completely segregated society.

"When I first learned to read I saw a drinking fountain that said 'colored,' but when I turned it on plain old water came out. I really made a scene because I was disappointed that it wasn't red or green or blue."

She says she always sat in the front of the buses in Texas just to annoy the bus driver. There was a real estate man in Austin she rather enjoyed annoying also.

"An advertisement used to appear in the newspaper every Sunday offering colored lots for sale. I used to call the man every week and ask him what color they were," she says.

Her conversation reveals that she feels that prejudice is not limited to the South. She says at least in the South a black person knows how he stands, and the discrimination locally is much more subtle.

"There are restaurants in Marin County where service is extremely slow for blacks," she says.

Recently she was in a department store with her two-year-old daughter when a white boy, about nine years old came in with his mother. The boy became fascinated by her child to the dismay of his mother who kept trying to pull him away. When his mother insisted he leave, he couldn't control himself any longer and blurted out, "Look at it; it can walk; it can talk; it can run and jump!"

"He obviously had never seen a black child before," says Mrs. Gaines. "I feel sorry for anyone who have never been exposed to people of other races."

Collie Gaines works mainly with youngsters in the 12 to 14 age group, and feels the area of concern regarding racial problems does not really begin until high school age. She believes the need to identify usually comes in the late teens.

The children she works with are concerned a little with name calling, and some say they have teachers who are not interested in the black student's special problems, but mainly they have the same worries as white children.

"They worry about what they are going to be when they grow up; the boys worry about girls; the girls worry about boys, clothes and makeup, and some of them are concerned as I am about the equipment we need for the Manzanita Center such as sewing machines, patterns, cooking utensils and so on."

COLLIE GAINES, director of the On-Going-Youth Program at the Manzanita Center in Marin City, conducts a session for 12 to 14-year-old girls, where they discuss grooming tips and other problems related to girls of that age group. In her office, Mrs. Gaines, right, shows Audrey White a book on grooming by Leslie Uggams that they will use in the next session. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

Youthful Look

One of the most youthful looks of spring came in the Junior Sophisticates collection. It was a two-piece ensemble with a very short black skirt topped by a white tunic blouse with long, slightly belled sleeves. To accent the youth mood, there also was a bright polka dot scarf looped around the neck and trailing down the front to the hipline.

Pleats Everywhere Is Dior's Message

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI)—Pleats, pleats and more pleats—that was the Christian Dior message for spring and summer delivered yesterday.

Dior's Marc Bohan pleated everything from short, swishing skirts to long, swaying trousers. Blouses were pleated, so were coats. Bohan even pleated long, full sleeves.

The pleats went with the cardigan and blazer jackets that Bohan began developing last season, giving the wearer a snappy, classic look that was pure 1969.

For daytime, the look was smartest in grey and white, as embodied by a white leather blazer with Dior's new short sleeves that stop just above the elbow.

Underneath was a soft, grey and white silk blouse in a new patchwork design. It was worn with a scarf of the same pattern, tied loosely around the neck like a man's tie.

The scarves knotted like ties were repeated throughout the collection, so men should not be surprised if their wives or girl friends suddenly ask for help in tying their scarves.

The pleats were usually knifesharp, but the look was kept soft by use of such fabrics as crepe de chine, crepe gorgette, silk surah and chiffon.

There was also softness, sometimes even sweetness, in the styling.

Bohan made one trouser out-

GIRL IN THE grey flannel suit was one of the features of Paris Couturier Christian Dior's spring-summer collection shown yesterday in Paris. The suit has a very short pleated skirt, a shouldered vest with four buttons and large patch-pockets. The scarf, knotted as a man's tie, was repeated throughout the collection. (AP Wirephoto)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Writer Misinterprets Meaning In 'Cheating Husband' Advice

DEAR MRS. B.:

I notice you lovelorn writers are all for cheating husbands. You want a wife to break her neck to please a man, but he should feel free to have as many affairs as he wants. Another columnist I read advises a woman to quit a drunkard but stay with a ladies' man. Doesn't she know how much more it hurts to see him chasing?

My husband had one affair after another. I stuck it out because of our children, but you know something, I'm glad he's dead. I believe that when this kind of man knows his wife loves him a lot, he loses interest. Rarely ever do you see a bad woman cheated on. And rarely do you see a chaser who wants a divorce. My husband begged me out of one many times. I'm sorry now that he did.

Please take the wife's side, Helen. — BESSIE

DEAR BESSIE:

If you could check back through my columns, you would see I consistently tell wives it is better to be single than wed to a "married bachelor." However, when a husband falls only once, or finds love elsewhere because there is no love at home, then I suggest that his wife work harder, so that he won't stray again.

Confirmed chasers aren't usually salvageable. The unlucky woman who draws one should toss him back before she wastes her life on him — unless she is willing to trade peace of mind for a roof over her head. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

You told the wife whose husband came home from the office party with lipstick on his shirt to "Keep her shirt on — after all, he did!" Are you sure this covers the subject of her concern?

Granted the wife was overmelodramatic, but I disagree with you vehemently when you slapped her wrist for "making a scene." Why should a woman sit home while her husband is out dancing with secretaries, and doing who knows what else? These office workers should not function as after-hours playmates for married men, and a husband should get the message fast —the first time he pulls a trick like this! — ANOTHER SHOCKED WIFE

DEAR ASW, and other "Shocked Wives" who trounced me for calling this an "explainable night out.":

Oh, ye of little faith! . . .

This man, in his wife's words, had been a "wonderful, loving, faithful husband for 13 years." Yet she was ready to toss him out because secretaries joined his stag party, and then danced until 2 a.m.

Aren't you ashamed of yourselves, you dirty-minded gals? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is it ture that most women fall in love with their psychiatrists? And what happens next? — CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS:

Women often imagine themselves in love with men who preside at some major turning point in their lives. Nowadays, the psychiatrist seems to have replaced the obstetrician as a favorite love object.

Mrs. David Sullivan To Lead Marin Ballet-Aquacade Group

Marin Ballet-Aquacade, Incorporated, sponsors of an annual ballet-swimming program for the benefit of the Marindale School for orthopedically handicapped children, announces its officers for 1969. Heading the organization as president this year is Mrs. David Sullivan of Greenbrae.

Yolanda Sullivan has been a member of the Ballet Aquacade group three years. Other organizations she has headed during the 10 years she has lived in Marin are St. Sebastian's Women's Club and the Acorn Guild of Sunny Hills.

She and her husband, owner of a sportings goods shop in San Francisco, have three children, Greg, 17, Patty, 15, and Sheri, 3 years old. Her hobbies are swimming, bowling and golf. Mrs. Sullivan enjoys working with charitable organizations and helping others, particularly children.

Marin Ballet-Aquacade accomplishes a dual purpose. First, it provides an excellent opportunity for young people in the county to develop their skills in swimming and dancing to such a degree that in a few short months of strict and conscientious rehearsal, they are able to put on a polished and professional performance.

Secondly, and perhaps the more important fact, is that all the women involved in the organization and all the youngsters who perform in the program are raising funds for children less fortunate than they. All profits from the Ballet-Aquacade are made available to the Marindale School to give aid to young people who are so severely handicapped physically that they are unable to attend a regular school.

The Marindale School serves children ranging in age from three years to the teens. The basic curriculum is that of a regular school — it does not differ in kind, but only in degree. An academic program that includes music, crafts, and playground activities is supplemented by therapy, psychological testing, and medical evaluation at regular intervals.

MRS. DAVID SULLIVAN

Mrs. Sullivan is hopeful that during her term as president, more people in Marin County will become aware of the important work that is being accomplished at the Marindale School. She is eager to create interest in the school, which is located in Terra Linda and serves the physical, emotional, and educational needs of between 60 and 70 students each year.

Serving with Mrs. Sullivan are Mmes. Leo Strauss, San Rafael, first vice president; David Bordner, San Anselmo, second vice president; William E. Niemann, San Anselmo, secretary; Frank Brown, San Anselmo, treasurer; and Monte Ambinder, Greenbrae, parliamentarian.

The governing board of Marin Ballet-Aquacade consists of the six officers of the organization as well as Mmes. Thomas Patterson and Richard Read, both of San Rafael.

Honorary members of the organization are Mmes. Ralston W. Hodgson of Ross and William Cuneo of San Anselmo. Both Mrs. Hodgson and Mrs. Cuneo have been associated with the Marin Ballet-Aquacade since its inception 24 years ago. Mrs. Cuneo has designed costumes, and Mrs. Hodgson has produced and directed the annual show.

The first meeting of the 1969 season will be held on Wednesday, at 10 a.m. in the conference room of the Bank of Marin. Any persons interested in the Marindale School and/or the Marin Ballet-Aquacade are invited to attend the meeting or to call Mrs. Sullivan.

Pleats Top Dior Show

fit of black crepe printed in white with knife pleats down the back of the tunic top that were pulled ever so slightly together by a sash tied in a bow at the back of the waist.

The tunic had a high standup collar that encircled the throat and neat white cuffs, buttoned in black.

Bohan also came up with a new fastening for cardigan coats and jackets, a short self-fabric rope tipped with gold and laced through gold eyelets. It was particularly well used in a natural shantung trouser suit. Both the jacket and slinky silk blouse underneath had deep V-necklines, accented only by the tie fastening.

Dior colors were very new with lots of light neutrals: beige, pale grey and pastels, pale blue, almond green, pale apricot and a particularly soft rose called period pink.

Heads were kept small with smooth hairdos, often cut like Joan of Arc's, and gypsy hats made out of scarves tied round the forehead and over the crown, knotted in back.

SANDRA LYNN McLellan was wed to Larry Dewayne Corbin at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. William K. McLellan of San Anselmo are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Rosemary Corbin of San Anselmo and Jack Corbin of San Rafael. (Les Walsh photo)

NEGRO FIRST IN STATE AS DEMO WHIP

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, has become the first Negro in state history to be elected to a legislative leadership position.

Brown was unanimously elected yesterday as Assembly Democratic whip.

Garcia Firm On Refusing No. 2 Spot

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— First-term assemblyman Alex P. Garcia definitely has decided to turn down the vice chairmanship of the Urban Affairs and Housing Committee.

Garcia, D-Los Angeles, said yesterday he informed Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan of his decision. Monagan, R-Tracy, had asked Garcia to reconsider his rejection of the appointment.

However, the freshman lawmaker said he asked Monagan if he could remain a member of the newly created committee.

Earlier this week, Garcia resigned as vice chairman, charging "I do not intend to be the victim of any compromise which relegates Mexican-Americans to second-class status."

Legislators Wistfully Dream Of Pay Raise

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A much - discussed and widely publicized subject in Washington has filtered from Capitol Hill to California's State Capitol: legislative pay raises.

President Nixon's salary was just doubled to $200,000 a year despite press and public criticism. Congress is also considering a boost in the salaries of senators and representatives from $30,000 to $50,000 annually.

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, struck by the "timeliness" of progress on the federal front, recently sent a confidential letter to his fellow lawmakers urging them to do something about raising the $16,000 annual salary in the legislature.

The voters were responsible for boosting the salary of California's lawmakers from $6,000 to $16,000 a year in 1966 when they overwhelmingly approved Prop. 1-a, which triggered passage of a pay raise bill.

The bill contains a provision for up to 5 per cent annual raises to take care of cost - of - living increases — but the problem is that the legislators have to give the raises to themselves, by a two - thirds vote in each house.

As Senate Republican Leader Donald L. Grunsky of Watsonville put it: "If the increases had been left automatic, it would have been simple. The problem is, they weren't."

Grunsky said he would oppose an increase at this time because "it's just not politically wise." Asked about Ryan's claim that this is the year to pass an increase, Grunsky replied: "This is the best time of all bad times but it's never a good time for legislators to vote an increase in salary."

His counterpart, Senate Democratic Leader George R. Moscone of San Francisco, endorsed the pay hike without hesitation and said he would be "delighted to author it" if legislators with more seniority don't take the lead.

With a smile, Moscone said: "You show me an underpaid legislator and I'll show you a lousy one."

Assembly leaders seemed to be moving cautiously on the issue. Republican Speaker Robert T. Monagan of Tracy said, "I personally — if the house here is willing to support it — am willing to do so."

However, he altered his stand after newsmen told him Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh of Inglewood had said: "My inclination is not to support this until we first pass conflict - of - interest and campaign disclosure legislation."

Though Monagan said the two issues were not related, he then told newsmen: "Without Mr. Unruh's unequivocal support for a pay raise, I won't support it."

Any pay raise would not be effective until after the next general election in 1970 — and could boost salaries a maximum 20 per cent to $19,200. Most lawmakers now earn around $20,000 annually with their $25-a-day expense allowances. They also enjoy other fringe benefits including use of a state-provided car.

Earlier this year, Ryan sent his fellow lawmakers another letter suggesting they construct a small exercise room in the Capitol basement to preserve their physical fitness. The legislature has not yet taken any action on the proposal, and isn't expected to.

Infantry Division Slates Reunion

Marin and Sonoma County residents who served with the 83rd Infantry Division, known as the Thunderbolt Division in World War II, are being sought, according to Victor E. Landis, third vice president and publicity director of the national Thunderbolt association.

The group, which has been meeting annually since the war, will hold its 23rd convention in Detroit in August, Landis said.

Nonstriking Professor, Militant Admit Crisis, Split On Solution

By CHARLES YOAKUM

The standard-bearer for militant students and a non-striking San Francisco State College professor — each seeing a similar problem but with widely divergent reactions — clashed with polite hostility on the issues of campus violence last night.

The Establishment is losing its control of the country and is now the "shrinking minority" militant leader Thomas Hayden told a crowd of about 200 persons last night at the College of Marin.

The scheduled debate — sponsored jointly by the college and the Marin County Toastmasters Club—ended up in an open-floor dialogue without ground rules when Hayden wrested the gavel from debate moderator Lothar Salin.

Hayden defended campus turmoil and violence, calling it "an unfortunate but necessary means to an end." He said that the violence at San Francisco State "was a two-sided thing," and scolded the press and college administration for "calling attention to our tactics rather than answering our demands."

He said that violence was a natural outcropping of today because "this country has failed to peacefully solve the problems and seeks to surpress minority protestations by military occupation and supression."

Hayden said the "student revolution of the 1960s" is being led by "young white people who have lost their heroes" and who "have seen generations of failure."

The bearded Hayden, the author of two books and maker of two trips to North Vietnam, is currently lecturing at the University of California.

His opponent in the debate, Gustafson, agreed with Hayden that the schools and colleges "were lagging behind" in offering acceptable opportunity to minority groups, but repudiated the SDS and the tactics it has used in campus turmoil.

He said that the SDS was "very successful" in canceling classes, getting teachers to strike, breaking windows and getting students disturbed.

"But lets look at what this violence has accomplished," he said, "exactly zero."

Gustafson, a member of San Francisco State's science department, said that he is a member of the striking American Federation of Teachers, but feels that there is a better way to find the solution than picketing.

He chided both the striking teachers and the SDS about the San Francisco State situation, noting that a recent poll showed that 69 per cent of the faculty did not support the strike and claimed that the SDS had to import "outsiders and high school students" to get enough support for rallies.

"Hard work, not violence, is the answer to our problems," Gustafson said. He pointed to Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Martin Luther King Jr. and Ralph Nader as examples of what hard work could do to change the world.

"Who would have given McCarthy a chance of knocking President Johnson out of the race," he said, "Or Ralph Nader of bucking General Motors. They didn't use violence, they used hard work."

"Each year we become more civilized towards each other," he said, "but of course we are not yet human."

Despite rather lengthy presentations by Gustafson and Hayden, the biggest single round of applause went to Lawrence Goldberg of Larkspur who countered Hayden's statement that "Americans have a history of violence."

"Because we are deep in wrongs doesn't mean its right," Goldberg said. "The fact that violence may be as American as apple pie doesn't mean its the proper solution."

Hayden called Goldberg "the sick voice of the suburbs speaking," and charged that "Goldberg and the rest of suburbia" had lost contact with what was going on in the ghettos.

Stereo Is Stolen

TEACHING STUDENTS

Dancing Pro Lends Hand To Musical

By RICHARD D. BOYLE

Jerry Kurland, a youthful old pro of New York's Broadway stage, television and night club circuit, is adding a professional touch to the choreography of San Rafael High School's production of "Oklahoma!"

"I find the kids great — they have really accomplished a lot," said the 34-year-old Kurland who has worked with the youngsters during the past three weeks, creating and teaching the intricate dance numbers of the show.

He became the show's choreographer and dance instructor by accident. Kurland, who has been with the Dunhills dance group for the past nine years, was recently visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley of 1504 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. While taking his mother to a doctor's office, he met one of the students who said the school needed some help in choreography for the show.

Since Kurland played the part of Will in the European road show of "Oklahoma!" with Shirley Jones and Rod Steiger, he volunteered to offer his services.

Since he doesn't want his cast to tighten up, Kurland said, he avoids the traditional teacher-student relationship. "I'm just one of the guys," he said. "If everything was always serious, we would all go out of our minds."

He has even persuaded the boys to do ballet numbers in the show. "The guys were a little shy around girls at first," he noted, but after working with them alone, they now perform like old troupers. "The boys don't mind doing "Oklahoma!" It's a real gusty show," he added.

Victor Goldberg, 17, sports a sinister looking Mephistophelian goatee and doesn't think there is anything sissy about dancing in a musical. "It is a lot of work," said Victor, who plays the villain, Jud Fry.

The young people are very eager and learn fast, according to Kurland. "The kids themselves have even come up with some of their own ideas for dance numbers which we have worked in," he said.

Kurland, born in the Bronx, New York, always wanted to be a dancer. Unlike the stereotype of a child performer, he was not dragged to dancing lessons by his mother. She didn't even want her son to go into show business.

Starting in summer stock plays when he was 18, Kurland said he has now performed on almost every television variety show and has played with every leading entertainer in the business.

He will soon join the Kings Four, a singing and comedy group, which headlines in Nevada and California night clubs. Not confined to dancing, he said, the new routine will be a chance "to do my own thing."

Holly Vernon, 16, of 3 Idlewood Place, San Rafael, one of the show's dancers, said Kurland "is fun to work with."

"I used to be shy and quiet," said 17-year-old Kathy Brown of 9 Laurel Place, San Rafael, who plays Aunt Eller in " Oklahoma!" "I have become much more confident of myself. It's a great feeling when the audience notices you."

Still, even though musicals are great fun, there is a great amount of hard work. "It's push, push, push," said Kathy.

Jennifer Heller and Debbie Mitchell, two 15-year-old members of the chorus line, who were trained in ballet, agreed with Kathy, but added: "Musicals are fun, but ballet is work."

But not all the stars will be out front when the show hits the boards on March 21.

A crowd pleaser, who will not be visible is David Apple, the stage manager and set designer. A take-charge student, it is his job to see that the giant cast of 100, which includes a donkey and a duck named "Ralph," are in the right places at the right time.

"I love a challenge," said David, "so I don't mind not getting all the glory."

Home Is Looted Of Radio, Other Items

The victims, John Herman and Donald A. Gabbert, told officers yesterday that entry was via an unlocked rear door. Other loot was a pocket watch, a tape recorder, and two sport coats.

Petaluma GI Killed In Vietnam

Pfc. Donald R. Carlyle, 20, of Petaluma, was killed in combat in Vietnam last week, the Department of Defense has reported.

Carlyle was reporrted missing Saturday and listed as dead Sunday. His family was notified of his death the following day. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlyle of East Prairie, Mo., and the brother of Raymond and Edward Carlyle of Petaluma.

He had been a gun bearer with the Ninth Infantry and was on a mission 28 miles south of the Cambodian border at the time of his death. Carlyle was drafted into the Army in June and had been in Vietnam for two and one-half months.

Carlyle lived in Petaluma for a year before entering the service and was employed in construction in Marin and Sonoma counties.

A native of East Prairie, Mo., he was educated there. He had taken basic training at Fort Leonardwood, Mo., and additional training at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Funeral is pending in East Prairie.

Execution Date Set For Massie

A March 12 execution date has been set at San Quentin Prison for Robert L. Massie, a convicted killer who says he wants to die in the gas chamber.

Judge H. Burton Noble of Los Angeles Superior Court ordered the execution date set last week, San Quentin officials reported today.

Following the blanket stay of all executions by the California Supreme Court last year, pending arguments over the constitutionality of the death penalty, Massie, 27, filed a motion with that court claiming it was his constitutional right to be executed.

As other Death Row inmates argued that the death penalty was "cruel and unusual punishment," Massie, convicted of killing a San Gabriel woman during a 1965 robbery, argued that persistent delays in his execution also could be interpreted as cruel punishment.

The Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the death penalty, 4-3, in November and courts throughout the state have begun to reschedule execution dates for San Quentin's 85 Death Row inmates.

Massie is the second San Quentin inmate scheduled to die since lifting of the blanket stay by the state Supreme Court. Dorman F. Talbot, 28, convicted of killing a 20-year-old youth in Ventura County, is scheduled to die Feb. 18.

Golf Club Is Used To Capture Suspect

James Albert Sprague, 24, of 14 Sentinel Court, San Rafael, was arrested on suspicion of taking a hunting knife from Mac's Disco Store at 555 Francisco Boulevard and assault with a deadly weapon.

The store manager, James E. Marlais of Walnut Creek, told police Sprague walked out of the store with the knife after handing the clerk one dollar. The knife was priced at $16.97, Marlais said.

Marlais, who grabbed a baseball bat, and another clerk, Michael La Porte, 21, of 126 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, who brought along a golf club, took after the suspect.

When they reached Sprague in the parking lot, the suspect turned around holding the unsheathed knife. LaPorte swung his golf club, batting the knife from Sprague's hand and he was escorted back into the store where he was turned over to police, the store manager said.

Sprague was held in lieu of $625 bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court today for arraignment.

Split Approved For Building

The Fairfax Planning Commission recommended city council approval last night of a special use permit for Andrew Isetta to divide a building at 1599 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard into offices and shops.

The vote was 4-1, with Commissioner Harold S. Lezzeni dissenting because of concern over parking, according to Mrs. Dell Blodgett, commission secretary.

In other action, the commission unanimously approved a sideyard variance for H. W. Laster of 46 Taylor Street. He wishes to add a bedroom and bath to his home.

Albert E. Gately was elected commission chairman, replacing Leo T. Cronin. Hugh O. Winn was chosen as vice president.

WITH SGT. MIKE By Hodgson

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Children's Emotional Trouble Often Traceable To Parents

VAN DELLEN

Emotional problems in children often can be traced to poor home environment. The sooner these are detected and corrected, the better the outcome. Family interviewing is one approach, and, according to Dr. David B. Friedman of Los Angeles, results have been good.

Consultations are conducted in the home, where the therapist attempts to find out what is causing the symptom producing behavior of one or both parents.

IN ONE INSTANCE, the mother complained that her 30-month-old son, Peter, was intractable and defiant. During the first interview, the child disregarded her requests. In contrast, he was very obedient to the father. At the same time, he freely came to both parents for warmth and affection.

There was nothing unusual about the way the mother handled the child, but the husband was very critical of her actions and extremely condescending. The child seemed to sense his father's contempt for the mother's authority.

THIS BECAME obvious during the second interview. Whenever Peter started to do something forbidden by his mother, he would glance at his father who, with a wink and a laugh, indicated his permission.

Whenever Peter's mother attempted to stop him, the father would tell her to let the boy alone. Now and then he praised the boy for his aggressiveness.

The father's disregard for his wife's authority was quite clear, and more so when he said "the maintenance of the household and a young child was hardly sufficient effort on her part to earn her keep."

BY THE THIRD interview, the situation was entirely different. Both parents recognized the cause of Peter's trouble and agreed to make an effort to cooperate when discipline was needed.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

SURGERY FOR LEG CRAMPS

O. N. E. writes: What is involved in the operation for intermittent claudication?

REPLY

In this condition, cramping in the calf of the leg occurs in walking. The ailment is due to poor circulation resulting from Buerger's disease or hardening of the arteries. Surgery is advised when the obstruction is confined to a segment of an artery in the leg. The surgeon makes a detour around the obstruction by inserting a graft or opens the vessel and removes the obstructive material by one of several techniques. In some instances, the nerves that control circulation through the arteries are severed (sympathectomy).

TALKS TOO LOUDLY

Mrs. M. E. L. writes: I'm not conscious of speaking in loud tones, but my family constantly tells me to keep it down to a dull roar. How can I overcome this problem?

REPLY

Make a conscious effort to speak softly. You may be getting hard of hearing.

DIETING WHILE PREGNANT

Mrs. E. P. writes: Can a woman who is six months pregnant safely take reducing pills?

REPLY

This depends upon the type of pill, but why take chances? A more sensible approach would be to stop eating for two.

THYROID AND CHOLESTEROL

REPLY

Yes. When metabolism is low, cholesterol is high, and vice versa.

Collections Firm Accused In Sonoma

SONOMA (UPI)—The attorney general's office and the Sonoma County district attorney have charged National Finance Co., which operates widely, with illegal bill collection practices.

In a complaint filed in Sonoma Superior Court Wednesday Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch and Dist. Atty. Kernan C. Hyland sought $100,000 in punitive damages and an injunction to halt the allegedly illegal business practices.

Hyland said the San Francisco based firm maintains no offices in Sonoma County, but had been the bill collecting agent for Sunset-West, a Santa Rosa discount department store.

He said the company purchased delinquent accounts from the store assuring them 100 per cent of the collected account with the finance company receiving its profits from high interest rates and collecting fees.

The store, officials said, no longer deals with National Finance.

The action was taken against National Finance, a San Francisco based firm, and eight interrelated finance offices operating in many California counties.

The complaint said National threatened illegal wage attachments against persons with delinquent accounts and harassed welfare recipients by implying loss of benefits if payments were not made. It also said the company threatened court action to collect delinquent amounts as small as $1.17.

In addition to National Finance, the interrelated firms were National Finance Co.—Northern; National Finance Co. of Southern California; National Finance Co. Northwest; National Finance Co. Factors; Labe Investment Co.; National Budget Plan of Oakland; Alta Investment Co.; and La Brea Finance Co.

Belvedere's Postmaster To Retire

Theodore J. Lehmann will retire as Belvedere-Tiburon postmaster on Feb. 28.

A 31-year veteran of the U.S. Postal Service, Lehmann has worked at the Belvedere-Tiburon post office for the past 15 years and has been postmaster for the past four years.

During his tenure as postmaster, the new post office on Beach Road was constructed and the consolidation of the Belvedere and Tiburon post offices achieved.

No one has been named to replace Lehmann.

Lehmann said yesterday he and his family will move from their Belvedere home to Cobb in Lake County this summer. There he will enjoy the fruits of retirement, although, he said, he would not turn down a good job offer if one came his way.

The Lehmanns have six children — two married, one in the Air Force and three, ages 18, 16 and 15, at home.

Six Convicted Of Deadly Exorcism

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Six members of a fanatical religious sect were found guilty today of beating a Swiss farmer's daughter to death "to drive the devil from her soul."

The charge carries a maximum sentence of 20 years imprisonment. Sentence will be passed Tuesday.

At the end of a three-week trial, which conjured up medieval nightmares of witchcraft and torture, the court found the six guilty of "assault with predictably fatal results."

The convicted are an unfrocked German priest, Josef Stocker; his German mistress, Magdalena Koehler; Swiss store owner Emilio Bettio, and three Swiss brothers, Hans, Heinrich and Paul Barmettler.

They were said to have used riding crops, walking sticks and whips in beating to death Bernadette Hasler, 17.

The four Swiss, who had previously been free on bail, were immediately arrested in court after being found guilty of a supplementary charge of deliberately trying to conceal Bernadette's body to protect Stocker and Miss Kohler.

Marin Hearing On Angel Island Slated By State

The state Park Commission will meet at the Marin County Civic Center on April 11 to give Marin residents a hearing on the state's plan for a $2.5 million development of Angel Island.

James C. Fisher, assistant secretary to the commission, notified County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske yesterday that the commission meeting is set for 9 a.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commissioners and conservation groups in the county have objected to the state's development plan, which calls for restaurants, hotels, and auditoriums and other commercial facilites.

County commissioners criticized the Angel Island plan as overdevelopment and asked the state to keep developments on the 720-acre island to a minimum.

On Dec. 13, Joske appeared before the state commission in San Francisco and asked for a Marin public hearing.

Civic Club Seats Officers For Year

Dean A. Rhodes of Mill Valley was installed Tuesday as president of the Southern Marin Kiwanis Club.

Auto Slams Pole; Teen-Agers Hurt

Lyn L. Chelgren, 18, of 100 Bayo Vista Way, San Rafael, was treated for skinned face and knees at Marin General Hospital, after the car he was driving hit a utility pole Wednesday afternoon.

San Rafael police reported that the Chelgren car skidded on a muddy shoulder and hit a power pole on Culloden Park Road.

Borst Asks To Be Own Attorney

Jerry Stanley Borst, 22, of Novato, accused of kidnapping and raping a Novato housewife, yesterday told a Superior Court judge that he wants to act as his own attorney.

Borst already had won a month's delay in his trial by stating that he no longer wished to be represented by the public defender and had enough money to hire a private lawyer. The jury had been seated in Marin Superior Court, when he made that decision on Jan. 16.

He was granted a continuance to Feb. 16.

Although Judge Thomas F. Keating yesterday cautioned Borst against acting as his own counsel, he granted permission for the prisoner to use books on crime and criminal procedure from the court law library.

Judge Keating also told Borst emphatically that he was to be ready for trial Feb. 16.

Borst is accused of kidnapping a 28-year-old woman and her two small sons July 9 with intent to rob the woman. He is also charged with raping her.

Fine, Probation Set

Alan Earl Kuehl, 29, of Hamilton Air Force Base was fined $211 in Marin Municipal Court yesterday, and placed on one year probation for drunken driving. He was arrested Dec. 25 on Highway 101 by the California Highway Patrol.

Redwood Vs. Novato Tops Tonight's Prep Menu

There'll only be room for one, and surging Redwood and Novato high schools will settle that issue, at least temporarily, tonight in Larkspur when the two high-scoring teams tangle at 8 o'clock.

The two clubs are tied for the league lead with 5-1 won-lost records, and both have impressive overall marks, Redwood at 15-4, Novato at 16-5.

In other games, San Rafael, knocked from the top by Tamalpais Tuesday, could be in-for another rough evening when it hosts frustrated but potentially dangerous Marin Catholic; Tamalpais should chalk up another league win against San Marin in Novato and Drake plays host to Terra Linda High in San Anselmo.

The Redwood-Novato pressure cooker will feature big teams with excellent shooting. A matchup doesn't give too much edge either way, although the Giants of Larkspur seem to have more all-around scoring punch while the Hornets may have the edge on the boards.

The Hornets have been generally a one-two club, with Steve McNally, the top scorer in the league, and Ed Herrnberger producing most of the points. But guard Bob Ament and 6 foot, 7-inch sophomore sub Dana LaFerriere both can score. So can junior guard Gene Barnes and forward Larry Ferguson although their stats don't show it.

The Giants can kill you long and short, underneath and outside. John Boro and Skip Corsini are both good shooters and Roger Smith, another long-range artist, may be all recovered from a neck infection.

Inside, Jerry Piro, an excellent shooter, can drive probably better than any one in the league. Jim Peters will provide board help and driving strength while 6-6 soph Bill Challender will have to take charge of the boards.

Tamalpais, fresh from an upset of San Rafael, should push its record to 4-3 against the outmatched San Marin soph-juniors. Balanced scoring and good free-throw shooting has been the key for the defending champion Indians. All five starters have hit in double figures at one time or another. Don Mackin, Bill Secor and Ron Small have been the steadiest. Gary Howard once again will have to carry San Marin.

San Rafael will have no respite against Marin Catholic, which came close to upsetting Terra Linda and matched Novato from the field. The Wildcats, who use a two-platoon system are led by Mike Murray and Shamus O'Reilly.

San Rafael, now 4-2, is topped in scoring by junior guard Bruce Nave. Also averaging in double fibures are Ray Taylor, Bill Sleezer and Bruce D'Ambra.

Terra Linda will have to bounce back from a tough but convincing loss to Redwood. Drake has good scoring from Clark Jamison and Fred Westcott, but very little defense and no height.

The Trojans are no great defensive geniuses either, but they can score and they clean up the boards. Top Trojan is Pat Purcell, a good rebounder and an "I dare you to stop me" shooter and driver. Mike Timmel, when he's on, can shoot well and Mike Peden has come along at center, scoring 19 points in his last two outings.

JIM GILMARTIN

A Really Big Night For Marin Athletics

HOT STOVE — Sam Chapman and Perry Schwartz were teammates at Tamalpais High School back in the early 1930s and both went on to the University of California where they won All-American credentials, helping Cal to an undefeated 1937 season, including a 13-0 victory over Alabama in the Rose Bowl.

Well, it's been 31 years and 31 days since Sam and Perry teamed up in that Rose Bowl venture, but they'll be reunited again tonight to display their wares in the knife and fork league's Smorgasbowl.

They and other Tam High alumni Tony Freitas and Charley "Buster" Wensloff and San Quentin Village native Walter "The Great" Mails will be installed as charter members of the Marin County Athletic Hall of Fame, a highlight of the Southern Marin Knights of Columbus Hot Stove League. To start at 8 o'clock, the affair will be held at Mt. Carmel School Auditorium, Mill Valley. The $2.50 tariff will include a buffet supper and the showing of the 1968 World Series movies. (It's strictly stag, so you ladies can stay home and watch the late-late show.)

They've Promised To Be Here

Chairman Phil Byrne said all the Hall of Fame inductees, selected by a K of C committee, have promised to attend, with the possible exception of Schwartz. The retired San Francisco probation officer told Byrne he has been confined to his Santa Rosa home with an ailing leg, but still hopes to join the party if possible.

Freitas, former pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and Cincinnati Reds, will come from Sacramanto; Mails, ditto a former big league pitching whiz, will come from San Francisco; Chapman will have no problem as he lives in Greenbrae, and Wensloff, an ex-New York Yankee righthander, can walk to the ceremonies as he still lives in Mill Valley.

That Chapman Quite A Star

Of the five honorees, Chapman gets the nod on two counts. Following his gridiron greatness at Cal, he went on to star for several years as centerfielder for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics. But don't expect old Shy Sam to tell you all about his touchdowns or home runs. When it comes to talking about his athletics days, Sam leads the league in reticence. He wryly prefers to remember bleaker moments, like his first day with the Athletics in 1938 when he threw the ball 15 rows up into the stands to lose the game; or in the 1937 Big Game against Stanford in which "... the one thing I remember was dropping a perfect pass in the end zone," although Cal won.

To hear Sam tell it, he was an All-American Out, but in doing some research on this greatest of all Marin County athletes several years ago I came across a couple of quotes that pretty well shatter his modesty.

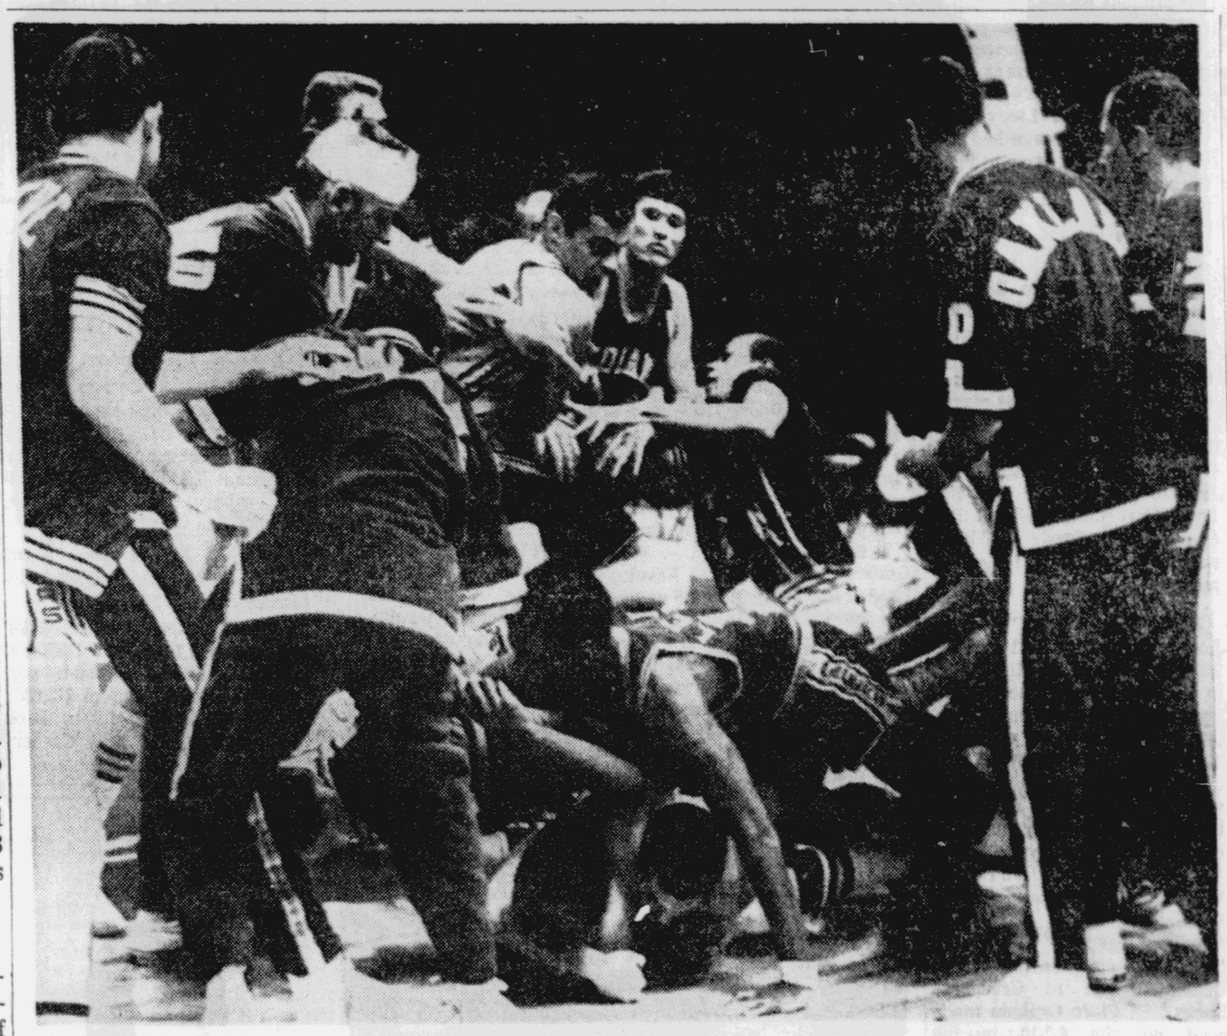
Said Hall of Famer Tyrus Raymond Cobb to Connie Mack: "You couldn't go wrong signing this kid." It was the first time the Georgia Peach ever recommended a player to the major leagues.

His Best Season In 1941

Chappy, as Mr. Mack called the one-time Tiburon sandlotter, had his best of 11 major league seasons in 1941 when he batted .322, drove in 106 runs and slammed 25 homers. Once he hit for the cycle — homer, triple, double and single — against the St. Louis Browns; had a grand slam off the great Bob Feller; and earned a chapter in Robert Ripley's "Believe-It-Or-Not" column for hitting two home runs in two days in the same game. This confusing situation came in a night game when Sam homered shortly before midnight and again shortly after midnight in the same game.

Now 52, Shy Sam will reluctantly take a bow tonight. But please don't applaud too long or too loud. He still blushes easily.



HERE WE GO — The explosive Oakland Oaks, who have had a tendency to ignite quite a few heated tussles this season, are at it again during a game against the Indiana Pacers as both benches empty after Oak Gary Bradd and Pacer Roger Brown (on bottom) started trading punches in the first quarter at the Oakland Coliseum. Warriors Run Out Of Gas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National Basketball Association schedule seems longer and longer for the San Francisco Warriors, especially when they lose.

"We just ran out of gas," said Warriors' Coach George Lee after the Chicago Bulls won 111 - 101 with a fourth - quarter surge last night before 9,921 at the Cow Palace.

STREAK ENDS

The Warriors, idle tonight, entertain Los Angeles, the Western Division leader, tomorrow night at the Oakland Arena in the first half of a home - and - home weekend series.

"With two players—Al Attles and Joe Ellis — out with injuries," said Lee, "Jimmy King, who has been injured most of the season, had to play more than I wanted him to."

BREAK TIE

Bob Boozer of the Bulls collected 11 points in the final period as Chicago broke away from an 80-80 tie. He finished with 25 and teammate Clem Haskins hit for 20.

Rudy LaRusso scored 29 to lead the Warriors, who remained in third place in the Western Division with a 24-29 record, 1½ games above Chicago.

Bowlers Begin Match Play In San Jose Tournament

SAN JOSE (AP) — Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., shot the highest six-game block of the tournament, a 1,449, to lead 15 other semifinalists into today's match-game play of the Professional Bowlers Association $60,000 San Jose Open.

The Kokomo Kid rolled 235-280-268 in his last three games last night to highlight his rush to the top. The 25-year-old pro finished the 24-game qualifier with 5,399.

Alfonso Pujol of New York City was only eight pins back with 5,391 and veteran Billy Hardwick of Louisville, Ky., was third with 5,388.

Johnny Guenther of Seattle hit the big game of the night, a 299. Guenther's effort almost matched the 300 games shot earlier by Wayne Zahn of Atlanta, Mike McGrath of El Cerrito, and Tommy Tuttle of King, N.C.

The 16 semifinalists shoot 16 games in today's action with the top five going for the $9,000 first prize in tomorrow's nationally televised final.

Bob Friend Urged To Run For Mayor

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend, who took a successful fling at politics after retiring from baseball, has been urged to run for mayor of Pitsburgh on the Republican ticket.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher, who is now controller of Allegheny County, said yesterday he was flattered by the call but "cool" to the idea.

A STRANGE CAGE GAME

Oaks In Overtime Victory

COMBINED AP & UPI

OAKLAND — The Oakland Oaks edged the Indiana Pacers 146-143 last night in an overtime American Basketball Association contest.

The lead changed hands several times during regulation-time play, and brawls broke out at 3:48 in the first quarter and 8:05 in the second.

Oakland was ahead 76-65 at the half, but the Pacers got hot in the fourth quarter and tied the score at 135-all with 19 seconds left. John Fairchild canned his first shot of the evening to deadlock it.

But the Pacers, in going down to defeat, achieved what must be a first in the annals of professional basketball history. They played the final 55 seconds of the game with a man who technically wasn't supposed to be there.

The oddity occurred when Roger Brown was slapped with his sixth foul. It meant immediate banishment to the Indiana bench but since four other teammates had preceded him to the sidelines via the foul route and since there were no other eligible Pacer players available, Brown was permitted to finish out the game.

Under ABA rules, all teams must field five men on the court during a game. To balance the unbalanced situation, however, had Brown committed another foul, Oakland would have been awarded a technical shot in addition to the violation free throw.

Doug Moe, in scoring an Oakland career high of 41 points, tallied a field goal with 28 seconds left in the overtime to put the Oaks ahead for good and Larry Brown put it out of reach with nine seconds remaining with two free throws.

Jet Offensive Coach Takes Pats' Head Job

BOSTON (AP) — Clive Rush is the new head coach charged with rebuilding Boston's sagging football fortunes, and his former star pupil Joe Namath says New York's loss is the Patriots' gain.

Rush, the 37-year-old architect of the offense which carried the Jets to pro football supremacy last season, officially took over yesterday as head coach of their American Football League rivals, the Patriots.

He and Patriots' President William H. Sullivan held a news conference for the announcement, and Sullivan told the gathering that while negotiations for the job were going on in New York he asked Namath for a statement he could use if Rush took the job.

"I hope you don't get him," Sullivan quoted the star Jets' quarterback as saying, "because we can't afford to lose him."

Rush has been the top aide to New York head Coach and General Manager Weeb Ewbank for the last six years, and was considered the heir apparent to the coaching post there when and if Ewbank decided to relinquish it.

Asked what would happen if that job came up now, Rush said:

"We have a three-year contract here. It wouldn't be fair to Billy Sullivan, the city or the people of Boston to just come up here and then leave."

The Patriots, contenders in the AFL's Eastern Division several times, slumped off badly to 3-9-1 and 4-10 records the past two seasons, leading to the firing of head Coach and General Manager Mike Holovak earlier this month.

The Patriots intend to split up the jobs between two men this time and Sullivan and Rush said they would work together in the selection of a general manager. Sullivan also reiterated that Holovak would be offered another still unspecified job in the organization.

Santa Anita Teen-Aged Horse Wins

"Haven't we got enough trouble with women wanting to become jockeys without kids trying to get jobs as riders?" his friend replied.

It was. Victory Beauty, a 13-year-old horse owned by Cindy Ward, started from rail position, never gave up the lead and sped under the wire by four lengths to win the race's $2,200 top prize.

For Victory Beauty, 91 years old on the human age scale, it was his 39th victory in 166 lifetime starts and set a record as the oldest horse ever to visit Santa Anita's winner's circle.

He carried 114 pounds en route to paying $11, $6.20 and $3.60.

Included in the poundage was veteran jockey Merlin Volzke, coincidentally the oldest rider at the track during this meeting. Volzke is 43—or almost 5 years old on the equine age scale.

SAN DIEGO GOLF

Nicklaus Zooms To Narrow Lead

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The years have been scarce and far between when Jack Nicklaus didn't win a major golf championship. The year 1968 was one of them.

The 29-year-old Nicklaus hopes to rectify the situation in 1969.

The leader going into the second round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open today, with an initial four-under par 68, the big and friendly bear from Columbus, Ohio, made a few reveltations.

EARLIER

For one, he has begun his training program weeks earlier than usual. He used to delay perfecting his game until the Masters at Augusta, Ga., loomed ahead.

"I played a lot of golf starting Dec. 27 in Florida," said Jack of a period in which he used to relax and fish. "I didn't win a major tournament last year and naturally my objective is to win one of them this year."

He referred to the U.S. Open, the Masters, the PGA and he British Open, the crowns of which he has won at least once in his brilliant career.

TARGET

Immediate target, of course, is the tournament here and its $30,000 top money. Last Monday, in his first tournament of the year, he finished just four strokes back of the winner, George Archer, in Bing Crosby's affair.

"I thought I played well up there," Nicklaus observed. His 68 yesterday left him one stroke ahead of Dow Finsterwald, formerly a tour regular who limits tournament play now to 18 or so events a year and spends much of his time as a club pro in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Billy Casper, the local hero and biggest money winner in golf last year, was in the heavily populated 72 bracket as only eight players broke par 36-36—72 on the 6,844-yard Torrey Pines Municipal course.

The par breakers were Larry Ziegler, Dave Eichelberger and Gene Littler at 70, and Jim Colbert, Hugh Royer and Jerry Abbott at 71.

San Rafael Girl Second In Skating

Julie Marie McKinstry of San Rafael, still a pixie-like 12-year-old, skated into the national spotlight yesterday in the United States Figure Championships at Seattle, Wash.

Julie finished second in novice ladies' complusory skating, behind Sheri Thrapp of Burbank and will be right up there tonight in the free skating finals.

Wood scored 786.3 yesterday in the compulsory figures which account for 50 per cent of a contestant's score. He was far out in front of Gary Visconti, also of Detroit, who scored 749.7.

A good performance in the free style skating, which accounts for the other 50 per cent in the scoring, would see Wood repeat his 1968 triumph.

John Baldwin of Colorado Springs, Colo., won the junior men's free skating title in last night's final in that event. Doug Berndt, Denver, was second and Kenneth Class of New York City was third.

Judy Schwomeyer, Indianapolis, and James Sladky of Rochester, N.Y., finished first in compulsory figures in gold dance competition and will shoot for the title in tonight's finals.

BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Scoring Spree In Marin

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Terri Horton is one of those bowlers who all these years has been hoping for that first 500 series. She had a red-hot night of bowling the other day at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael, but she still didn't get a 500.

Would you believe 600?

Mrs. Horton rolled games of 194, 229, and 177 to score 600 right on the button in the TGIF League. Her husband and teammate in the mixed league, Fred, had a 206 game, first time ever going over the 200 mark.

Another member of that Friday night league, 17-year-old Everett Bennett, bowling in an adult league for the first time, rolled games of 212, 196 and 192 — another 600 right on the nose.

That's the kind of week it was at Country Club Bowl, as 59 series scores were 600 or better, including a pair of 700s, Lou Eastland's 712 and Bob Curtin's 707, both in the 905 Classic. Observers who have been on the bowling scene for quite a while at Country Club can't recall a week as hot in scoring as this past one.

Penny Conti and Faye Scott went over the 600 mark, Penny with a 652 and 256 game in the Toppers (also 579 in the Hi-Lo's and 570 in the 615 Women's Classic) and Fay with a 628 set in the 615 Classic. So that made it three women series over the 600 figure.

THIS AND THAT — Bud Hulbert, average 152, went all the way to a 242 game in the Thursday Late Mixed at Nave Lanes . . . Werner Schmidt is due for a 162 game after rolling 133-143-153, in that order, in the Nite Owls at Country Club . . . Jim Carroll (147 avg.) rolled his first 600, a 606 with 237 high game in the Week-Enders League at Country Club . . . Patti Croker had high game in the Agents 1108 League at Country Club, 227, and Edith Ench converted the 6-7 split.

PICKIN' 'EM UP — Good to see Terry DeYoung and Dick Treadway in the Bay Area 16-man finals of the Bowling Proprietors All-Star tournament this weekend. Treadway made it all the way to the national finals in Minneapolis back in 1958. . . Curley Stobbe went 100 pins over that ol' average when he rolled a 256 game in the Merry Mixers at County Club — Not satisfied with that, Stobbe also rolled a 192 and a 214 and wound up with a 662 series . . . In the Friday Nite Leftovers at Nave Lanes, Ina Federman bowled an 83 triplicate (a triplicate is a triplicate), Hazel Sorrels just missed one with 135-137-135, and Ron Fry blasted a 264 game and 617 series . . . Nancy Goldbeck notched a 121 triplicate and Fran Koop converted a 6-7 split to highlight Blue Chip action at Country Club.

DOWN THE LANES — Frank Bernardi of the 910 Travel League had high game of the week in Marin, a 279 that had nine straight strikes in it . . . Dolly Farmer had high game for the women when she rolled a 257 game in the Keglerettes League at Country Club . . . Sylvia Knutson led the scores again in the Marin County Mixed Travel, a 589 set of three at Greenbrae Lanes . . . Winners of the Meals for Millions bowling tourney will get their prizes Sunday at all three Marin bowling houses, 7:30 p.m.; Top three scores so far were Lou Eastland's 753, Jack Ecton's 748 and Larry Asay's 742 . . . Al Hoffmann had a big week of it, a 276 game in the 670 Scratch and a 630 series in the 821 Scratch, both leagues at Country Club.

NEVER TOO LATE — Belated congrats to Bill Nave for winning the Druids bowling tourney at Nave Lanes (and the thing wasn't rigged, either), and to Skip Ruhl and Tom Sains for winning top spots in the playoffs of the Christmas Singles Tournament put on by the Marin County Junior Bowling Association. In that tourney, youngsters bowled two-game blocks in three houses. Well, Sandy McWhirten rolled 391 each time. Now that's an odds breaker.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Lorna Tognoli made it over the 200 mark for the first time, a 211 in the Daffodils League at Country Club . . . Bill Baioni, out-of-towner bowling in the California Trophy Travel League when it was at Country Club Bowl last week, was high man with a 703 three-gamer . . . Split makers in the Monday Washday League at Nave Lanes were Loretta Massen, 4-7-10, and Carlma Houweling, 6-7 . . . Eileen Dewick picked up a very difficult 8-10 split in the Gutter Belles League at Greenbrae Lanes . . . Clare Graham made good on the 6-7-10 in the Bowlerettes at Country Club . . .

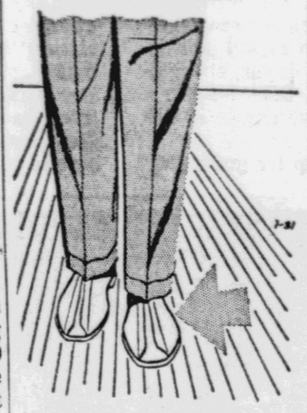
Bowling Tips

By DON CARTER



Today's illustration shows the foot position I recommend for most bowlers. The left foot should point straight down the lane, while the right may point out a bit. If you want to help yourself make the first step short, move the right foot back even farther, if you're using the four-step approach.

Riverside 500 Gets Go Ahead

RIVERSIDE (AP) — Twice delayed by rain, the $100,500 Motor Trend 500-mile race for stock cars roars off tomorrow morning, weather permitting, at Riverside Raceway.

Forecast appear good that the 44 entries can race this time, 13 days after they were originally scheduled. The cancellation last week meant, however, that NASCAR champion David Pearson will be able to compete.

Suffering from a cold and nasal infection, Pearson had returned home to Spartanburg, S.C., for medical treatment. He now has clearance for the race.

Pearson faces such other established stars as Cale Yarborough, Richard Petty, Lee Roy Yarbrough, Al Unser, A. J. Foyt, Mario Andretti, Parnelli Jones and Bobby Isaac.

Fords, Chevrolets, Dodges, Mercurys, Plymouths, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles and Buicks are entered in the 500-mile test during which the cars can reach speeds up to 180 mph.

They'll run over a 2.7 mile course in the first competitive test of 1969 models and leading off the new year for the National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR).

Raceway President Les Richter said the heavy rains didn't do any lasting damage to the track and it will be ready for the race.

Archer Leads Money Winners

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — George Archer claimed the high spot with a comfortable margin yesterday in the Professional Golfers Association list of the top 10 money winners so far this year. Archer has won $27,053.

Charles Sifford was $7,000 back at $20,100, followed by Bruce Devlin at $17,309.

Others on the list were Miller Barber, $16,167; Bob Dickson, $13,166; Harold Henning, $13,115; Howie Johnson, $12,086; Dale Douglass, $11,999; Dick Lotz, $10,833, and Billy Casper, $9,727.

Royals Give Up Rookie For Hetzel

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati dealt rookie Don Smith to Milwaukee yesterday for Fred Hetzel in a move that should bolster the Royals' sagging offense and provide the Bucks with a strong, young rebounder.

The Royals of the National Basketball Association also had to pay an undisclosed amount of cash for Hetzel in the first of what could be several trades.

"We have a couple of others cooking, and there's a very good chance they will be made," Cincinnati General Manager Pepper Wilson said.

They feel Hetzel, 26, who stands 6-foot-8 and weighs 220, will supply the offensive spark and rebounding they need.

Hetzel, a four-year NBA veteran, was picked up by Milwaukee from San Francisco in the expansion draft. He has averaged 15.9 points a game with them and posted a 13.2 game mark with the Warriors.

"We regret parting with Don," Wilson said, referring to Smith, a 6-foot-9 rookie from Iowa State who has seen little action with Cincinnati.

"We feel that he has the ability to make it in this league eventually but we needed help right now and we felt Hetzel was the guy."

The move by Milwaukee was seen as an effort for the club to get more younger players.

A Bucks' spokesman said the club "has been looking for a long time for a power forward who is a quality rebounder. We feel we have found him in Smith."

MEET COACH BILL AIRES

Novato's 'Electric Dynamo'

(Last in a series on Marin County Athletic League basketball coaches.)

BILL AIRES

During the course of a game, Aires, sporting a brand new goatee, will yell loudly, gesture frantically, shake and toss his head, jump up and down in a blur of energy.

Aires is a man who can find equal success in a losing and a winning season. To him, the primary job of a coach is to run a sort of life course for the young athlete. The game is a game, but it is real too. And you learn from real life.

PRIMARY JOB

"I know it sounds like a tried and true cliche," he says, "but I think our primary job is to teach boys something about life. This is the real thing after all, what it's about. Challenge, competition."

ARMY PLAYER

A New Jersey transplant, Aires found his way to the Bay Area by way of the Army, for which he played basketball at the Presidio in San Francisco.

From there it was on to San Francisco State when it was still a campus. He started as a guard for three years from 1957-1959. He and James Caranica, now his junior varsity coach at Novato, were both starting guards in 1959.

From there it was back to New Jersey and then to Novato in 1959 where he started out as coach of the class B team. He took over the varsity reigns three years ago. The first year was anything but joyful.

ONWARD, UPWARD

His Hornets, didn't win a league game, and won only two games for the season. But the following year they were 12-13 on the season and this year, through Jan. 24, they are 16-5. Like an upward spiral.

"You can learn something from losing," he said. "It's frustrating, but it's not a total loss. I think I did a real good job that first year. You do what you can with what you have."

Part of the problem at Novato is, of course, that the town is not exactly strung together with a highly organized system of lower level competition.

SEES IMPROVEMENT

"That will get better," he said. "This town has a chance to be a community in terms of basketball and athletics."

Success is coming his way. And bringing decisions, of sort. Married and the father of a girl, Lisa, 6½, and a boy David, 4½, Aires' interest and ambitions are genuinely divided between coaching and teaching. He teaches International Relations, U.S. History and U.S. Government certainly not the puffcake mythical subjects coaches are supposed to teach.

It's a two-way thing," he says. "I don't know how long I can keep coaching. They're both very important to me."

Giants Will Rehire Physical Therapist

Bert Gustafson of Tiburon is a ramrod erect physical fitness specialist. Bert's conditioning clinic in the Marines Memorial Building in downtown San Francisco regularly is visited by athletes whose muscles need therapeutic treatment.

Gustafson is the physical therapist expert who outlined the exercises that corrected leg problems of Orlando Cepeda, Jim Davenport, Willie McCovey and other members of the Giants.

McCovey has no special problem now but still works out twice a week during the winter in Bert's gym. Keeping McCovey company this winter is Bob Barton who jammed his right knee late last season. Barton is doing heavy leg presses and running a couple of miles a day.

THREE YEARS ago Gustafson discovered wasting muscles in Cepeda's right leg. They had become atrophied from disuse following a knee operation. Cepeda sings Gustafson's praises every time the name of the physical fitness man is mentioned. The program Gustafson prescribed for the Baby Bull did salvage his baseball career.

MUSCLES IN Davenport's left leg also deteriorated from disuse but it wasn't until after Gustafson's success with Cepeda that the Giants sent Davenport to Gustafson. Nobody considered the possibility of weakened muscles in Davenport's leg because of the superb manner in which he continued to play third base following a 1959 left knee operation.

However, two years ago it became apparent that Davenport's left leg no longer had the spring it once did. That it wasn't due to advancing years was made very clear by Gustafson's examination of Davenport.

"IT'S FANTASTIC that Davenport was able to play as well as he did these past years," said Gustafson following his examination.

"No," said Gustafson, "above the knee where the quadriceps are. They are the main muscles of the leg, the ones kids build when they run and jump."

THIS SPRING in Arizona Gustafson will direct the Giants in running, jogging and sprinting to strengthen their quadriceps and other muscles.

Fighting Jim Harding Fired As Coach Of ABA Pipers

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jaunty Jim Harding was bounced yesterday as coach of the Minnesota Pipers, a few days after he was involved in an argument and fistfight with a minority owner of the American Basketball Association team.

Verl "Gus" Young, director of special promotions for the Pipers and a former college coach, was elevated to the coaching job for the remainder of the season.

"It was my decision to dismiss Harding for his part of the altercation with part-owner Gabe Rubin in Louisville Monday night," said Pipers' President Bill Erickson. "It was not Rubin's decision."

Rubin reportedly owns about 15 per cent of the Pipers, while Erickson is the majority owner. The Pittsburgh man was majority owner of the Pipers last season when the franchise was in Pittsburgh.

Harding, 39, took over the coaching job last fall and had a two-year contract. He previously coached at LaSalle University of Philadelphia.

"I wish Gus well with the Pipers. I have no immediate plans and don't know whether I'll continue in coaching or not," said Harding.

Seals Take On Maple Leafs

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Seals will sport a "new look" tonight when they skate against the Toronto Maple Leafs, 8 o'clock, in Oakland Arena.

Oakland presently holds down second place in the Western Division with a 17-26-7 record, 18 points behind pace-setting St. Louis and three ahead of Los Angeles.

INVESTING

A Channel For Venture Capital

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Why have your Texas readers seen nothing i n your column on Telecom Corp., formerly Texas Capital? Some noteworthy news releases are coming from this company.—R.O.

A. The company announced late last summer that it would seek acquisitions in CATV and related industries, as its recent changeover to a holding and operating company would permit both ownership and operation of CATV systems. Texas Capital, now a wholly owned subsidiary, continues as a small business investment company under the original SBIC license.

Telecom manufactures peripheral hardware for computers and is involved in various real estate developments. It expects to share — and profit substantially — from the financing of Holiday Inns de Mexico, which holds the exclusive franchise for rather immediate construction of five motels in principal Mexican cities.

In 1968, Telecom shares, trading OTC, moved from a low bid of 7 to an historic peak of 18 bid as I write this column.

Residents of Texas who are close to the company may have their reasons for being more optimistic than I am, but I see this situation as a businessman's risk for venture capital only. My advice is to wait for the March earnings report.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Two Places Enable Deductions On Tax Form; Gross Cut Best

Wikel

There are two places on the tax return where you can make deductions.

It is a far better thing to deduct from your gross income than it is to deduct from your adjusted gross income.

Taxes and interest are frequently deducted on page 2 from your adjusted gross income. This is where they belong if they apply to your personal residence or other personal items.

PROPERTY DEDUCTION

However, if taxes and interest apply to income producing property, then they should be deducted from the income produced by the property.

For instance: Suppose you own a duplex and suppose you live in half of it. You would deduct one half the interest and taxes on page 2 as itemized deductions, and the other half you should deduct in Schedule B, "rent and royalty" so as to reduce your rental income. If the property was vacant and for rent, then you would still make the deduction in the rental income schedule and have a loss.

OTHER EXPENSES

1. Sick pay, use Form 2440.

2. Moving expense, use Form 3903.

3. Employee business expenses, use form 2106. (A.) Expenses of travel, meals and lodging while away from home, paid by you in connection withthe performance of your duties as an employee. (B.) Deductions for expenses paid by you in connection with the performance of your duties as an employee under a reimbursement or expense allowance arrangement with your employer. (In excess of your allowance.) (C.) Your expenses if you are an outside salesman. (D.) Your business transportation expense if you are an employee.

USE OF AUTO

Usually there is no deduction for going to and from work, but sometimes even that is deductible.

If you use your home as your office, and go directly from there to the jobs or to call on customers, then your expenses are deductible.

If you take heavy tools, etc., from your home to various jobs in your car, since it's not possible to use public transportaion, you can deduct your car expenses — IF the only reason for using your car is to carry heavy tools, etc., and you would not use your car except for that reason, or if you use your car to carry heavy tools, etc., which you can't store where you work.

If you have two jobs and drive from home to Job 1, from Job 1 to Job 2, and then home, the expenses from Job 1 to Job 2 are deductible.

If you go to school after work to improve your job skills, your tuition, fees and books are deductible and so is driving from work to school, but not from home to work or school to home.

If you use your car in your work and every morning drive from home to your office and then use your car to drive in your work, return to the office and then go home in the evening, all your driving expenses are deductible, except home to office and office to home.

ENTERTAINMENT

Your entertainment expenses are deductible from gross income if you are an outside salesman. If you are not an outside salesman, then they are only deductible from adjusted gross income.

4. Payments by self-employed persons to retirement plans, use Form 2950SE.

Get the proper form from your local office of the IRS and fill it out carefully and attach it to your return to explain the deduction you are taking on page 2, part 3, of your Form 1040.

Why is it so important to deduct these expenses from your gross income in arriving at your adjusted gross income rather than deducting them from your adjusted gross income to arrive at net taxable income?

MEDICAL EXPENSES

Your medical expense is deductible to the extent that it exceeds 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income and your drugs and medicines are deductible as a part of your medical expense to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

With that in mind, it becomes very important to have your adjusted gross income as low as possible since this will increase your medical expense deductions.

Also, adjusted gross income and net taxable income are significant factors in other tax computations and comparison ratios and claiming a deduction in the wrong place could get you an unnecessary and time consuming audit.

Railway In Red

UTRECHT, Holland (UPI)—The Netherlands (State) Railways closed the 1967 fiscal year with a deficit of $26.1 million. The previous year's deficit was $21.9 million. The unfavorable trend is caused mainly by a sharp increase in the number of automobile owners.
